Delivers Charge To Knapp Grand Jury

Justice Callaghan Declares the People of the State Expect a Most Searching Investigation—Mrs. Ninde, Formerly Secretary to Mrs. Knapp at Syracuse University, Was the Longest of 17 Witnesses During the Morning Session.

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (AP).—The grand jury investigation of alleged criminal acts of former Secretary of State Florence E. S. Knapp in connection with her administration of the 1925 state census, opened at a special term of supreme court here today.

Starting promptly at 10 a. m., Justice Stephen H. Callaghan presiding, appointed Theodore M. Cox, a manufacturer of Albany, foreman of the jury, and Eugene P. Miller, jeweler, also of Albany, as assistant foreman.

Because of connection with banks which have state funds in custody, Jacob H. Herzog, vice president of the National Commercial Bank of Albany, and Addison Kiem, assistant cashier of the New York State National Bank of Albany, were excused from the jury. Justice Callaghan explained that they might later be called as witnesses. Chauncey D. Hakes, an Albany business man, also was excused for reasons not announced by the court.

The first witnesses to appear at the court house were Alexander Otis, former counsel to Mrs. Knapp; Joseph Wisely, notary clerk in the department of state; Henry G. Adams, head of the election bureau of the state department; R. C. MacMahon, state treasury department clerk in 1925; Christopher D. Henk, in charge of records in the secretary of state's office, and the following persons from Cooperstown:

Al Manduit, night clerk at the Hotel Fenimore; Marion Johnson, day clerk at the same hotel and daughter of Postmaster Burt Johnson; Mrs. A. G. Dunn, Mrs. Joseph Halsey and Attorney Harris L. Cooke.

The connection of the Cooperstown witnesses with the case could not be definitely established by newspaper men as the grand jury went into session.

Otis First Witness.

After Alexander Otis, the first witness, had concluded his testimony, there appeared on the witness stand eight persons, all employes of various state departments. The first, Mr. Henk, produced records from the election bureau showing that Mrs. Knapp had been duly elected secretary of state. The next witness was Mr. Adams, of the department of state, who dealt with the same subject. In succession after him were called Mr. Wisely, James F. Hennessy, deputy Albany county clerk; Charles H. Mullens, assistant deputy comptroller; Lyman H. Hurd of the comptroller's office, and John Magilton, chief auditor of the same office.

Testimony of all the early witnesses dealt merely with the authenticity of records in the case.

The first witness closely associated with Mrs. Knapp during the census appeared before the jury at 12:30 when Mrs. Luella V. Ninde, formerly secretary to Mrs. Knapp at Syracuse University, took the stand.

Mrs. Ninde introduced considerable testimony not presented at previous hearings and informed the jury of many details connected with trips taken by Mrs. Knapp during the census period. The former secretary to Mrs. Knapp was on the stand nearly one hour, the longest of 17 witnesses appearing during the morning session.

Charge to Jury.

People of New York State expect "a most searching investigation into the conduct of those of its public officials who have been charged with wrong doing," Supreme Court Justice Stephen H. Callaghan declared in his charge today to the special Grand Jury convened to investigate charges of misfeasance and malfeasance in office filed against former Secretary of State Florence E. S. Knapp.

"They will accept nothing short of a most painstaking investigation," Justice Callaghan continued, "and will not be satisfied unless you perform your duty fully and courageously. If there is any attempt by you to shield anyone, the responsibility for such conduct will be placed squarely upon you."

Recalling that Governor Smith, in superseding District Attorney Charles J. Herrick of Albany County by Attorney General Albert Ottinger in the prosecution of the charges, had "recognized the seriousness of the charges which have been made and the necessity for a vigorous investigation," the justice added:

"People generally have great confidence in their public officials, and when one is charged with misfeasance or malfeasance in office every right-minded man demands prompt and vigorous prosecution, to the end, first, that if innocent all suspicion of wrongdoing be removed, and, second, if guilty, that proper punishment be inflicted upon those who are guilty of a breach of public trust.

"That confidence we have in our

Hohenberger Is Arrested Again

This Time on Warrant Sworn Out by I. O. Feldstein Charging Hohenberger With Theft of Merchandise—Adjourned to April 10.

When William Hohenberger, 19, of Cedar street was arraigned in police court today before Judge Shufeldt on a charge of stealing some $200 from his brother, Rudi, with whom he made his home, he was again placed under arrest by Sergeant James V. Simpson. The second arrest was on a warrant sworn out by I. O. Feldstein of this city who charged Hohenberger with the theft of some $275 worth of merchandise. The hearing was adjourned to April 10.

At the time Hohenberger was arrested in New York city on the warrant sworn out by Rudi Hohenberger, he was about to sail for Germany. When his trunk, two suit cases and handbag were searched they were found filled with new merchandise. The trunk and suit cases were shipped back to Kingston by Sergeant Phinney who had gone to New York after Hohenberger, and later an investigation was made to ascertain from what store, if any, the merchandise had been stolen.

When a visit of the business places of the city failed to disclose a loss Sergeant Phinney visited Hohenberger in the county jail and Hohenberger told the sergeant that last January while he was employed on a truck which had been engaged by Feldstein to remove the merchandise from his store to his home that he had taken the merchandise that had been found in his possession.

Feldstein was notified by the police and called at police headquarters where he identified the goods and they were turned over to him. Later Feldstein swore out the warrant on which Hohenberger was arrested today.

1,000 MADE HOMELESS FOLLOWING CLOUDBURST

Shawnee, Okla., April 5 (AP).—Upwards of 1,000 persons were homeless here today following a rain of cloudburst proportions last night.

With the body of one man recovered and seven persons missing, volunteers searched debris left by a torrent that raged through the heart of the city.

Dawn revealed that 50 or more houses had been swept from foundations and more than 200 residences damaged by the flood that reached a height of five feet in some sections. Damage was estimated as high as half a million dollars by city officials.

So suddenly did the water inundate the central part of town that many persons were forced to climb trees. Firemen took more than 50 refugees from trees and from housetops, while others were removed from flooded homes.

POLICE HEAR OF THEFT WHICH PROVED A JOKE

Wednesday afternoon a local man parked his automobile on one of the main streets of the city while he was transacting some business and when he returned to his car it was to find that his overcoat had been removed from the car. The theft of the coat was bad enough but in the overcoat pocket was his keys which he valued highly. He reported the theft to the police. Later it was learned that the man's wife passing the car recognized it, and helped herself to her husband's overcoat, evidently as a joke on him.

FIRE DESTROYES BARN AND GARAGE IN GLASCO

A large barn on the Glasco Methodist Episcopal Church property and an adjoining garage of James Legroto were destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. The Rev. Harry Thompson's Ford and Fred Breithaupt's Durant were damaged by the flames while one car in the garage was removed without being damaged. Lafin Hose Company of Saugerties responded to an alarm and saved adjoining property. In the afternoon the Saugerties department was called out by a grass fire on Prospect street.

Fire Destroys Fire Chief's Home.

Briarcliff, N. Y., April 5 (AP).—The building in which the fire chief of this Westchester county village had his home and the former fire chief operated a plumbing shop was destroyed by fire today with a loss estimated at $190,000.

News of Arrest Is Not Libelous

Innocent Man Thought Newspaper Charged Him With Guilt, When He Was Arrested In Company With Another Man Who Later Pleaded Guilty.

Publication of the fact that one has been arrested and upon what accusation is not actionable, if true, under a recent decision in the Supreme Court in New York city, but because the article complained of was inaccurate in some details, a jury awarded the plaintiff six cents damages against the New York Herald Tribune, in a libel suit brought against that newspaper by Richard J. Coston of Brooklyn, which suit was defended for the newspaper by MacDonald DeWitt of New York and Kingston. The suit was tried recently before Supreme Court Justice Henry L. Sherman and a jury in New York city. Associated with Mr. DeWitt, who was trial counsel, was Harold L. Cross of the law firm of Sackett, Chapman, Brown & Cross, general counsel for the newspaper. The plaintiff was represented at the trial by Martin Conboy and David Asch of the firm of Griggs, Baldwin & Baldwin, of New York.

The plaintiff contended that the newspaper article was not privileged as a fair and true report of public and official proceedings but was in effect a charge by the newspaper that the plaintiff was guilty of the offenses charged against him by the arresting officers, and that the publication complained of could not be justified in court except by proof of plaintiff's guilt. As a matter of fact, the plaintiff's innocence was established in court the day after his arrest and he was released. Plaintiff was one of four persons who were arrested at the same time, one of whom Norbert A. Peterson, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the federal prison at Atlanta. Mr. Coston, the plaintiff in the suit against the Herald Tribune, gave testimony, which was uncontradicted, that he had never met Peterson before the night of the arrest and had no knowledge of Peterson's criminal activities or record and that he happened to be with Peterson on the night of the arrest at the instance of Peterson's mother and sister, with whom Mr. Coston had been keeping company for several months.

Plaintiff Was Innocent.

Mr. Coston the plaintiff, occupies a responsible position in New York city, and plaintiff's testimony was devoted largely to establishing his innocence, which the newspaper did not dispute; the circumstances in which he chanced at the time of the arrest to be in the company of Peterson and his treatment following the arrest at tthe police station and police headquarters, where he was finger-printed, photographed and caused to appear in the morning line-up of detectives. On the trial it was pointed out that the newspaper had no responsibility for the circumstances which caused the arrest or for the ensuing treatment of Mr. Coston.

The arrest of Peterson, his sister, another young woman and Mr. Coston took place as they were leaving a Broadway restaurant. The newspaper article stated that Peterson was charged with breaking into a post office, that he bragged of the fact that Gerald Chapman, mail robber and desperado, had been his pupil when he was an inmate instructor at Auburn state prison, that he was said to have admitted that in 1918 he was arrested in Scotland for forging passports and was sentenced to be shot but sentence was commuted to ten years' imprisonment and he was said to have told police that he made his escape from prison, that the police believed him to be the leader of the gang and said he forged money orders stolen from the East View post office, mailed them to himself by registered mail in various towns in this state and New Jersey and cashed them, obtaining several thousand dollars. In addition to the statements regarding Peterson, the newspaper article stated that post office inspectors said they had been on the trail of the quartet for several weeks. Mr. Coston's name had been spelled "Caston" in the article complained of. After his innocence had been established, the news of his release was published.

Right and Duty to Publish.

On the trial of the libel suit, the defense was that the article was not actionable on the grounds that it was a fair and true report of the arrest and the charges on which it was made and that it was privileged as news of public and official proceedings published without malice. There was no claim by the newspaper that Mr. Coston was guilty of the crimes charged or of other wrongdoing. On the contrary, the newspaper contended throughout the trial that its article did not charge and was not intended to charge guilt, but was limited to reporting news of public occurrences which it had a right and duty to publish. Its counsel expressly disclaim any insinuations against Mr. Coston. The testimony introduced by the Herald-Tribune, Justice Sherman charged the jury, established that the crimes referred to in the article had in fact been committed, that the police officers and post office inspectors, suspecting that those crimes had been committed by Peterson, arrested him and charged him with their commission and that the public authorities, suspecting that the plaintiff and the other two arrested persons were Peterson's accomplices, arrested them and charged that they had acted in concert with Peterson.

The Herald-Tribune article also referred to an automobile parked near the scene of the arrests, which, it

Tornadoes Kill 3, Injure Score, In Southwest

Kansas City, April 5 (AP)—Tornadoes climaxed a general wind and rain storm that caused at least three deaths, left more than a score injured and damaged buildings at widely separated points in the southwest yesterday.

First reported in southern Kansas and northern Oklahoma the storm swept southeast into Arkansas where a tornado in Washington county devasted a large area. One person was known to have been killed and a score were injured.

Two tornadoes occurred in Texas. One of them destroyed or partially wrecked more than a dozen buildings at Bangs. Another struck near Santa Anna, injuring two persons. Torrential rains and hail fell in the Abilene district, causing considerable property damage.

One man perished and hundreds of persons were driven from their homes when 6.81 inches of rain fell in a half hour at Shawnee, Okla., last night. Hail, driven by a high wind, accompanied the rain, tearing holes in roofs and breaking windows.

While the storm at Shawnee lasted less than an hour, water rose to a height of five feet in some sections of the city, washing houses from foundations and filling the streets with debris. One body was found here. A Mrs. Campbell and a baby were missing. A torrent three blocks wide raged in the heart of the city. Losses were placed at more than $150,000.

Heaviest damage in Kansas occurred in the oil fields of Greenwood and Butler counties. The wind reached an estimated velocity of 80-miles an hour in that section. Oil derricks were demolished and farm buildings razed. Mrs. Anna Green, 25, was killed at her home near Topeka when she was buried under the wreckage of a building.

Reports of minor losses came from numerous points in the southwest. Tecumseh, a village near Shawnee, Okla., also was hard hit by hail. High winds swept Rock Springs, Tex., where more than 50 persons were killed in a tornado April 12, last. Communication lines were crippled, but damage in Rock Springs was light.

One building was demolished and several houses were unroofed by a gale at Las Cruces, N. M., where a severe sandstorm developed.

JURY FINDS VAN KEUREN WAS NOT TRESPASSER.

The trial of the case brought by the New York Central Railroad Company against William W. Van Keuren, of the Saugerties road, for alleged unlawful trespass upon the railroad property on the morning of March 26, was tried before Justice of the Peace Alexander Speers and a jury Wednesday afternoon and resulted in a verdict of no cause of action.

The principal witness for the railroad was Sergeant Charles Roosa, of the railroad police force, who testified that he saw Van Keuren standing in the doorway of the crossing shanty on the Saugerties road, in conversation with Edgar Elliott, the flagman. He said Van Keuren had been warned a number of times to keep away from the shanty and a notice against loitering had been posted. As Roosa approached, he said Van Keuren walked away and resisted when asked to go back to the shanty and fell to the ground in the ensuing scuffle.

Van Keuren denied having trespassed on the railroad property and said he was several feet from it. He had a brief conversation with the flagman and then began walking in the direction of Albany when Roosa came after him, took hold of the lapel of his coat and assaulted him. He said Roosa also slapped the flagman, accusing him of conspiring with Van Keuren to cause Roosa's father to lose his job as flagman. Elliot corroborated Van Keuren's testimony and said Roosa put him out of the shanty and said he would be responsible for what went on at the crossing until Elliott was relieved. Elliott denied conspiring with Van Keuren regarding the elder Roosa.

Amos Van Etten represented the railroad company and Floyd W. Powell represented Van Keuren.

A Sign of Warm Weather.

Another sign of warm weather today was the first appearance of the season of open trolley cars in Kingston.

was charged, had been stolen by Peterson and in which was found evidence incriminating him, including stolen money orders, forged checks and burglar's tools. Mr. Coston sued to recover $100,000 damages.

The verdict as recorded read: "Because the Herald-Tribune didn't confine the contents of the article in question to authentic information, we believe that Mr. Coston was injured to that extent, and we accord him damages to the amount of six cents." In reporting the trial and its result, the Herald-Tribune says: "It was interpreted as a judicial determination that Mr. Coston was innocent and that the article, though not entirely correct in all of its details, was of such a character and was published in such circumstances that the newspaper could not be called upon to pay damages."

Waters Had Copy Of the Testimony

But Brinnier Refused to Accept It for Use In Trying Law Suit Because It Was Not Official.

Ulster county court held a brief session at the court house this morning but what it lacked in length was compensated for by the unusual situation created by Francis A. Waters, Jr., plaintiff in Case No. 11, and William D. Brinnier, attorney for John A. Fisher, defendant in the action.

Other cases on the day calendar had been disposed of when No. 11 was called and Mr. Waters and his counsel, Andrew J. Cook, announced the case was ready. Mr. Brinnier said that the return in the case had been filed by the city court of this city, where it was originally tried, on September 12 last. Later he had applied to Judge Fowler for an order directing that a further return be made by the city court of the testimony taken on the trial. To his surprise, he had learned that the testimony could not be found in the county clerk's office, and that an offer of judgment, which had been made at the trial, also was missing. The decision of the city court had been based on the testimony and not on the offer of judgment. He could not understand the failure to file the testimony.

Waters Had Copy.

"I have a copy of the testimony and I will lend it to you," said Mr. Waters.

"Mr. Brinnier and his client are entitled to have the testimony taken in the city court filed with the county clerk as part of the return," said Judge Fowler.

"I have a true copy of the testimony," said Mr. Waters, producing some papers from his pocket and handing them to Judge Fowler.

"If Mr. Brinnier is willing to accept it, you may hand it to him," said the judge.

"This is rather unusual," said Mr. Brinnier. "If he could get a copy of the testimony, it seems strange that a certified copy could not be filed in the county clerk's office as ordered by this court. We refuse to accept this copy."

"Giving you a copy of the testimony is not complying with the order of this court, which directed that it be filed with the county clerk," said Judge Fowler, "and I don't see how we can go on without the testimony taken in the city court. The case will have to go over to the end of the criminal calendar."

Action In Other Cases.

Of the other cases on the day calender, No. 2, The Liquid Carbonic Company against Isidor S. Hersh and Louis Jalkow, was stipulated over to the end of the criminal calender. H. Westlake Coons is attorney for plaintiff and Manuel Dittenheimer for defendant. No. 9, Marion L. Grar against George P. Muller, was set down for trial at chambers. Cleon B. Murray is attorney for plaintiff and A. D. & A. W. Lent for defendant. No. 18, Murray as trustee against Stamatakos, was announced as settled.

Extra Jurors for Criminal Cases.

District Attorney Traver applied for an extra panel of forty jurors for criminal cases which will be taken up next Tuesday morning, and the jurors were selected, to be present in court at that time. There are 22 jurors available from the present panel. Mr. Traver announced that the first case to be taken up for trial next Tuesday be that of The People against Antoinette K. Hook of this city, who is charged with arson, and that each side would be entitled to 20 challenges.

C. W. Henderson of the town of Rochester, who had been excused from attending the opening of court, was present and sworn as a juror.

Court adjourned until next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when defendants will be arranged.

Criminal Calendar.

The criminal calendar for the present term of court is as follows:

People vs. Otis Wells.
People vs. Philip Pampinella.
People vs. Peter Fattorino.
People vs. Antionette K. Hook.

DOGS IN CITY MUST REMAIN MUZZLED

Many owners of dogs seem to be of the impression that the edict requiring the muzzling of all dogs allowed to roam the streets had been rescinded by the board of health. The edict, however, is still in force and the ban has not been lifted by the board of health.

Died in Chicken House.

Jacob Turck, aged 72, was found dead in his chicken house at Windham, Tuesday night. He had gone to feed the chickens and after a considerable time was sought by his daughter-in-law, who found him in a crouched position in the hen house. A physician pronounced death due to cerebral hemorrhage.

Chauncey M. Depew, Famed After Dinner Speaker, Dies

Chairman of New York Central Railroad Would Have Been 94 Years Old on April 23—Entered Politics Before Lincoln Was Mentioned For the Presidency—Served Two Terms as U. S. Senator—Was a Confirmed Optimist.

New York, April 5 (AP).—Chauncey M. Depew, picturesque grand old man, who entered politics before Lincoln was mentioned for the presidency and for more than 70 years was famed as an after dinner speaker, died at 4:30 a. m. today at his home of bronchial pneumonia.

Mr. Depew had been ill for less than a week. He would have been 94 years old on April 23. He continued an active career until the end, serving as chairman of the board of the New York Central Railroad. He intended to attend the Republican National Convention in Kansas City in June. With the exception of the 1924 convention in Cleveland, he had attended every Republican Convention as a delegate, nine in all, since 1888. At the 1888 convention he received 99 votes for the presidential nomination, but withdrew in favor of Benjamin Harrison. His wit in rousing political speeches was a feature of conventions and caused him in early days to be known as "The Peach."

Mr. Depew served two terms as United States senator, from 1899 to 1911.

The aged man suffered a chill while coming to New York last week from a five weeks' vacation in St. Augustine, Fla. On Sunday he was stricken with a cold and on the advice of Dr. H. Lyman Hooker, remained in bed at his home here. Monday he became unconscious and medical consultants were called in. Tuesday he improved and regained consciousness.

After a good day yesterday, Mr. Depew began to decline at 7 o'clock last night. Members of his family were summoned to the bedside. These included Mrs. Depew, a son Chauncey M. Depew, Jr., and a niece, Miss Anne Depew Paulding. When it became apparent that he was dying the servants and the household staff were summoned to the bedside.

Confirmed Optimist.

In advanced age, Mr. Depew always viewed life from a young man's viewpoint. He was a confirmed optimist.

On his 93rd birthday Mr. Depew agreed to join the New York Young Republican Club, because he said he felt that contact with young men was the only way to keep in touch with the world's activities.

He had expressed the belief he would live to be 100 years old. "Useful or not," he said, "everybody has a right to live as long as he can; as for me I am going to do my best to set a record."

Commenting on an announcement of the Federal Public Health Bureau service that man's span of life had been increased 15 years since 1870, to 56, Mr. Depew said he believed "common sense rather than monkey glands is what is lengthening the span of life."

Talked With Soldiers.

In one after-dinner speech he revealed he had talked with the soldiers of every war in which the United States had been engaged.

"Do you know," he said on another occasion, "that if you live long enough nearly everything will come to you? It is only a matter of time, and the beautiful thing about it is that when you have advanced in years your stating the thing doesn't lead people to believe that you are bragging about yourself, because it is what comes in the course of nature.

"I have had my ups and downs, good luck and bad luck, losses and gains, and, when I come to sum it up, I think I have got on the whole what I deserve. It is all a matter as to what, during the latter years, the waves will cast upon the sands of time. If it gives you friends, notwithstanding your years, if it gives you health; if it gives you work sufficient to keep our mental and physical activities alive, then life is worth the living."

Mr. Depew retained his interest in politics until the end. In February, 1927, he predicted the re-election of President Coolidge if prosperity should continue, and expressed the belief that the president would even carry New York state against Governor Alfred E. Smith, should the latter be the Democratic nominee.

Chauncey Mitchell Depew, who was credited with having originated two-thirds of the funny stories told around the world, made his first public speech several years before President Lincoln became a resident of the White House; and nearly 70 years later, with health and vigor unimpaired, he was still a favorite in a new generation.

His reputation as an after-dinner story-teller was so widespread that it largely eclipsed the more serious work of his business and political career, which included Republican campaigning in all the national canvasses from Lincoln to Harding; 12 years in the United States Senate; 14 years as president of the New York Central railroad, an

Recall Depew's Favorite Stories

New York, April 5 (AP).—A legion of epigrams and stories Chauncey M. Depew told at banquets, given in interviews and passed on by associates have become almost parables among his friends.

Today they recalled many of them.

One of his favorite admonitions was, "Have a hobby; but never a fad."

"Keep faith, have hope and be charitable to all," was another.

He often told the story of his first client. He had just graduated from Yale and opened a law office at Peekskill, N. Y.

"My first client was a prosperous farmer who wanted an opinion on a rather complicated question. I prepared the case with great care. He asked me what my fee was and I told him five dollars. He said 'A dollar and seventy-five cents is enough for a young lawyer like you.' Subsequently he submitted the case to one of the most eminent lawyers in New York, who came to the same conclusion and charged him $500. On account of this gentleman's national reputation, the farmer thought that fee was very reasonable. In subsequent years I have received very large retainers, but none of them gave me so much satisfaction as that dollar and seventy-five cents which I had actually earned after having been so long dependent on my father."

Other favorite stories and expressions of Mr. Depew's were:

"One of the great crimes which shorten life is indifference. As one loses interest in his church, in his political party, in his club, in the friends and acquaintances he dries up and the grave claims one whom no one wants or laments. The two most fatal phrases and the most common are 'what's the use' and 'why should I?' A hungry and needy world answers both with open opportunities for service, helpfulness and good fellowship.

"I believe my age is due to the fact that I have been on good terms with humankind. I have made strenuous efforts to be calm, to be tranquil. All my life I have cultivated people because I liked them."

"I have absolute faith from repeated trials of the efficacy of prayer. While the answer has not come by voice or letter or through mediums yet in some way it has been direct and positive. But the greatest aid is faith, faith in your church, at the same time with a broad charity for all who prefer other creeds; faith in your government, when its foundations and principles have been demonstrated, like ours, as the best; faith in your fellow man and woman.

"I have never experimented with strange foods. My health and longevity are due, more than anything else, to the fact that I have been very careful what got inside of me. I have seen a flow of champagne suggestive of Niagara, but I have never been submerged. One rule I have followed: I pick out of each bill of fare what I would have eaten if I had stayed at home. I do not smoke and I never drink anything but champagne, and very little of that. The next day everything with me, head and vitality, is as usual. There never was a man yet whom drink did not dull or deaden. Most of the great speakers I have known never touch anything at dinner. They have told me that their mental process would not work until at least five hours after a meal. I never was troubled that way."

IDEAL SPRING WEATHER ENVELOPES KINGSTON

U. S. HELPS CURE TARS BY RADIO

Public Health Service Gives Medical Advice to Vessels at Sea.

Washington.—Since February 4, 1922, the United States public health service has been furnishing medical advice by radio to vessels at sea. The amount of this work has increased and the health service has often rendered great assistance to vessels at sea in need of medical aid. Advice by radio is furnished from the United States marine hospitals of the service, the Atlantic coast being served from New York city, the Gulf of Mexico from Key West, New Orleans and Galveston, and the Pacific coast from San Francisco.

On the great lakes the marine hospitals at Chicago, Cleveland and the relief station at Sault Ste. Marie give medical assistance by radio. The relief station of the public health service at Honolulu serves ships in that vicinity and those near Manila radio the station there for advice.

How Service Functions.

The following example of the messages received and advice given illustrates the value and importance of this service. This message was received from a ship out at sea at a marine hospital at 8:44 a. m.:

"Accident, man fell down hold, apparent injury, bruises, left temple and body, dazed condition, symptoms of concussion, require doctor's advice, if necessary assistance."

Within twenty minutes the following message had been forwarded in reply:

"Absolute rest in bed, ice cap to head, should patient become unconscious later rush to hospital at once. patient can be taken off at quarantine station if necessary."

Report Day to Day.

Instances of this kind could be multiplied indefinitely. Frequently a report is given to the hospital from day to day as to the progress of a case. "Patient much improved. Thanks," is a report which is quite frequently received. The variety of cases treated in this way is very great, ranging from toothache to the treatment of fractures of various parts of the body. One vessel sent a frantic appeal for advice as to how to handle a man with delirium tremens.

The medical advice to vessels at sea is greatly appreciated by seafaring men and many letters and radiograms thanking the public health service for the advice given have been received.

The furnishing of such medical advice by radio has been made possible through the generous co-operation of the several radio companies. This service is rendered without cost to the vessel or the hospital.

School Teacher Finds Homes for Old Horses

Edmonton, England.—Buying up old and worn-out horses and personally seeing them humanely destroyed or found a good home, where they do light work, is the spare-time occupation of Miss Hayes, a school teacher of this town.

Already 5,000 horses and donkeys have passed through her hands and last year she spent $15,500 in buying 406 horses.

Miss Hayes says she often saw lame and emaciated horses being worked in the streets and inquired what became of them. Hearing they were often sold to dealers and worked harder in the country, or sent abroad to be slaughtered, she started buying them, with the help of friends. She keeps several in her own stable and cares for them herself.

Miss Hayes is well known locally as "the horses' friend."

Mowing Machine Makes Him a Wealthy Man

Columbus, Kan.—A mowing machine made H. E. Wright a millionaire.

Twenty-five years ago he was looking for a meadow. Two 40-acre tracts were offered to him at a dollar an acre, but a hay mower was thrown in free with one piece of land to attract a buyer.

That mowing machine led him to choose the 40 acres from which he has received $1,000,000 in lead and zinc royalties. Wright still owns the land, but he cannot use it for raising hay, because some of the best lead and zinc mines in Kansas are located on it.

Appropriately Named

Little Rock, Ark., was named from a rocky promontory which rises on the south bank of the Arkansas river some 50 feet above the river and now used as one of the abutments of one of the four bridges which span the river. This rock is the first seen ascending the river, and was called "Little Rock" in contradistinction to the bold precipice about ten times higher which rises some three miles above upon the opposite bank and is called "Big Rock." This is now the site of an army post.

Farmyards at Sea

Installation of flower gardens on some of the ocean liners, from which come decorations for the dining tables, recalls a queer craft that once plied between England and Ireland, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. It was operated entirely by women and was the sole means of livelihood of two elderly sisters. They had a well-kept kitchen garden and a poultry yard on the deck, and supported themselves by selling the products.

Showmen in Tropics Double Their Take-In

New York.—By selling seats both behind and in front of the motion picture screen, exhibitors in Central America make their investment pay double returns, according to a member of the Paramount-Lasky corporation's foreign department.

The pictures are exhibited outdoors on a screen suspended between poles. Seats in front of the screen are occupied by the higher classes, while the lower classes view the pictures from the opposite side, as they shine through the screen.

Of course the titles thus appear reversed, but this does not bother the peons. They cannot read.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 5, 1928.

Secretary Mellon has not taken notice of Senator Couzens's resolution calling for his resignation, but in celebration of his 74th birthday he consented to leave the Treasury in other hands for two hours.

A REMARKABLE PROPOSAL.

The country has hitherto been aware of and not surprised at a certain amount of political activity on the part of the American Legion, but not until recently did it appear that the organization was ambitious to have a voice in the shaping of our foreign policy. At the Legion's last meeting in Washington it "resolved" that its national defense committee "recommends to the President" that "at all international peace, disarmament, or similar conferences, involving the question of national security, in which the United States is a participant or was an observer, official or otherwise, the American Legion be accorded a representative at such international conference."

This recommendation has been pointedly described as "extraordinary" and "unprecedented", for the organized veterans of the Union army never asked for any such recognition, even in the period of their greatest political power and virtual domination of American politics by means of the celebrated "soldier vote". If the Legion has such a right, why not other organizations, including the Spanish War Veterans, the Women's International League for Peace, and the patriotic and peace societies in general? And if the Legion must oversee our foreign policy and diplomacy, why not also our domestic affairs through oversight of Congressional legislation? Of course, it is not proposed to go so far, but if this remarkable request should be granted, we may rest assured that the clamor of other societies for similar recognition would be more or less deafening.

EMBARRASSING DISCOVERY.

The Democratic drys of the South, who want a dry Catholic nominated for President in lieu of a wet or "liberal" Catholic, have had a setback. Senator Blease of South Carolina has discovered and called attention to the fact that Senator Walsh of Montana attended the Villard dinner in Baltimore. This makes Senator Walsh "impossible" as the candidate of any Southern group, in the view of Senator Blease, and undoubtedly Southern drys in general will find it very embarrassing. For the dinner, by previous arrangement and announcement, was attended by blacks as well as whites, Mr. Villard having insisted that the banquet in his honor be an interracial affair, and all Baltimore's hotels and clubs having refused to be its scene, it was held in a private house—and Senator Walsh was there.

Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of the New York Nation, is a grandson of William Lloyd Garrison, an abolitionist of the more radical type who in one instance publicly burned a copy of the Constitution of the United States, denouncing it as "a league with death and a covenant with hell" because of its provisions for slavery and the surrender of fugitive slaves to their owners. With such family traditions behind him the stand taken by Mr. Villard in connection with the Baltimore dinner was perhaps to be expected, and such a stand by him does not concern or trouble the Southern drys. What concerns them and will trouble them greatly is Senator Walsh's presence at the dinner, with its implied recognition as proper of the kind of "social equality" which the white South will not tolerate. Inevitably the Southern drys who aimed to beat Smith with Walsh are now much embarrassed. They are now "up against it", even if they were not so to any degree before—which the Smith partisans are convinced that they were.

GREAT FLOOD MEASURE.

It evidently required new, disastrous floods in the Far West to bring Congress to a realization of its duty regarding flood conditions on the lower Mississippi and its tributaries. Lamentable as those western floods have been, they have served a good purpose. Western regions in peril should benefit in turn by this new appreciation of what flood menace can [illegible] how they may be avoided.

The unanimous action of the committee in favoring the comprehensive [illegible] almost universal public approval. It provides $325,000,000 to be spent on the main water courses of the Mississippi from Cairo to the [illegible] and may not have taken that much before the task is done. It may be a billion-dollar job.

Very well! The government spends nearly a billion a year for military preparations, in a time of peace; it can afford to do as much for national security against hostile natural forces.

With the final decision for Uncle Sam to bear the whole expense there can be no legitimate quarrel. The states affected have already spent $200,000,000 on their own relief and security. The rest of the country can surely do no less. It is right to shoulder responsibility for the future prevention of national calamity. The expenditure is justified for humanitarian reasons and for economic reasons. It will amply pay for itself in the long run, in creating safety and prosperity in a great, naturally rich section, from which the whole country will benefit.

The engineering plans are plainly sensible and far-sighted. Not content with merely raising the levees, and thereby raising the river level further, they will provide spillways and relieve the main channel by draining off flood waters through a new channel, for whose purchase the bill provides. By such measures safety may be made reasonably sure and lasting.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

WATER PREVENTS WEIGHT REDUCTION.

No fault can be found with health writers who advise the drinking of plenty of water by the average individual. However the advice given that water does not make or retain fat in the body is hardly fair to our overweight friends.

Water is absolutely essential to life, and its withdrawal produces death much more quickly and painfully than the withdrawal of food. As a matter of fact a large proportion of body weight is due to water, about 60 to 70 per cent.

Water dissolves the food stuffs and helps to distribute them throughout the body by means of the blood, removes injurious waste from the cells of the body, and keeps the temperature within narrow limits, about one or two degrees, 97 to 99 degrees F., by its evaporation. The body uses every day a great deal of water. In digestion alone it uses in saliva in mouth, gastric juice in stomach, bile from liver, pancreatic juice from pancreas, and in intestinal juice itself, about six or seven pints of water, practically all of which, 98 per cent, is absorbed back into the blood again before the waste of the intestine leaves the body.

The average individual in his daily food including liquids, takes in about four pints of water. If he takes more than this Nature will take care of it for him. It doesn't dilute the blood, but in many cases gets stored in the muscles and the skin. Now when he exercises, this muscle gives up this water.

What would happen when he exercised if he did not have this loosely held water in the muscles and skin?

The exercise would use up some of the fat of his body, instead of this water, thus actually reducing weight.

Thus you see water actually preserves the fat in many individuals. I mentioned once before, that the winner of the diamond sculls at Henley, decided to reduce his weight by boxing, with the idea of trying for the honor again.

After strenuous workouts, the scales showing a loss of three pounds daily, he was the same weight one month later as when he started.

Why?

Because he drank a couple of quarts of water after his workouts, and kept a jug of water at his bedside and drank another couple of quarts during the night.

What is my thought?

That while most of us can drink all the water we want and more, and it will be of help to us physically, overweight individuals should cut down not only on their water intake, but on salt also, which thus lessens thirst, and helps to increase the outgo of fluids from the body. Every boxer and jockey knows this because it means his very livelihood.

NEW HURLEY.

New Hurley, April 5.—An L. T. L. meeting was held at the school house last Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Van Kleeck moved this week to their home near Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wright and daughter, Mary, of Gardiner visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell last Sunday.

J. H. Denniston, who has been ill for a few days is improving slowly. Dr. H. L. Stevens of Walden is attending him.

Miss Altie Wilkin and Clifford Hotaling were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wilkin last Saturday afternoon by their pastor, the Rev. A. Van Arendonk.

Choir rehearsal will be held at the parsonage Saturday evening. All members of the choir are requested to attend as special music will be rendered for Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dusinberre and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McKinstry of Gardiner spent Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. Isaac Sutton.

Christian Endeavor meeting next Sunday evening April 8 at 7:30. Topic, "Why We Believe in Immortality? 1 Cor. 15:16-23.

At the congregational meeting last Sunday morning the following elders and deacons were elected. Elders: J. W. Monell and Frank Schoonmaker. Deacons: John Mackey and Gerow Schoonmaker.

The Young Women's Club was very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Floren Ruger, at Wallkill last Saturday afternoon. It was decided at this meeting that the club give $25 to the Ministerial Pension Fund and that they send $40 to Miss Mabel Schoonmaker, a missionary in India, to go toward the support of a child there. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Thompson at Newburgh.

Clintondale Grange Activities.

Tuesday evening, April 10, is the date for the Grange supper and old fashioned dance to be furnished by the men of Clintondale Grange. The following menu will be served: Eggs (deviled, fried and boiled), creamed potatoes, scalloped salmon, tomato salad, lima beans, radishes, bread (white and brown), jello, cream puffs and coffee. Music by Pardee and Allen.

P-T. A. No. 5 Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Parent Teacher Association took place at School No. 5, Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 at which time considerable business was enacted.

The report of the card party showed net receipts of $25. There was a total of $23 from the return of little aprons, of which there were 48. The members who were not present may send their aprons with donations to Mrs. Clarence Ryan, 365 Broadway. This will close the April business. It was voted to send the president and treasurer to the Newburgh convention April 17.

The nominating meeting was appointed, the election of officers to take place at the May meeting.

There were two classes not represented by parents. The Association will be glad to welcome them at the May meeting, as well as all those interested in child welfare work, as they have in store a lecture by Miss Stanbrough, who will explain her work, which is of a constructive and interesting nature. Owing to illness Miss Stanbrough had to cancel her engagement for the April meeting.

The P.-T. A. Banner for attendance was again awarded to Miss Marsh.

BLUE MOUNTAIN

Blue Mountain, April 5—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freligh, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rothe and Mr. and Mrs. William Wolven spent Wednesday evening with Everett Becker and family.

Mrs. Frank Hommell and children of West Saugerties were visitors with Mrs. Claude Hommell, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schoonmaker spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Emma Snyder at West Saugerties.

Mrs. Fred Cole of West Saugerties was a visitor with her sister, Mrs. William Hommell, Thursday.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Trenton, N. J.—Happy the golfer with a good score. John D. Rockefeller, enroute to Lakewood from Florida, where he had a most pleasing final game, detrained here. Did he give the porters shiny dimes? He did not. He had a secretary hand each of four baggage totters one dollar.

St. Albans, England.—The old guard of British golf can teach the young idea how to shoot. Braid, Vardon, Ray, Mitchell, Taylor and Herd as a veteran team handed a coterie of youthful pros an artistic trimming.

Mexico City—Junior Coen, in the opinion of his tennis boss, Bill Tilden, is a fine example for youth to follow. He has attained supremacy in scholarship and athletics by digging in and doing hard work. Besides being the most remarkable tennis player of his age the world has seen, he is the leading student in his class at a Kansas City High School and captain of the basketball team.

New York—Nicholas Notovitch, president of the Palais de France, is quite enthusiastic about the comely Ruth Elder, whom he kissed on each cheek as he presented her a gold medal from the city of Paris, to wit: "Queen of the sea, the premier aviatrice, the charming Miss Elder, the first feminine explorer of the mysterious skies."

Hanover, N. H.—It is no longer a small college, but there are those who love it. The will of Edwin Webster Sanborn, grandson of Ezekiel Webster, brother of Daniel, leaves Dartmouth $1,500,000.

Albany, N. Y.—Southward lies a fount of youth, if not of political wisdom. Prior to a meeting of the Democratic State Committee at which the musicians will mount the Smith bandwagon two shining stars of Tammany are going much nearer the equator than the Hudson river. Governor Smith is going to Asheville, N. C.; Judge Olvany to somewhere in Florida. It is announced they need vacations.

Philadelphia—Having had two elopments, Mrs. Elsie Campbell Leidy now would like a second divorce. She is suing Philip L. Leidy, with whom she eloped in 1917 on his twentieth birthday. Previously she had been divorced from John T. Wilson, with whom she eloped in 1912.

Seattle—There are objections to a homecoming of the former Nancy Ann Miller and her Indian potentate. The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church seeks a nation-wide movement for their exclusion "because they do not stand for the principles of Christianity."

St. John's Rummage Sale.

The women of St. John's Episcopal Church will hold a rummage sale on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 9, 10, and 11 at 584 Broadway, near Cornell street, on the right hand side of Broadway going uptown. Mrs. Chester Hamilton, who has charge of the sale, asks that all persons having articles to contribute either communicate with her at once, phone 2345, or take their articles to the address by Saturday of this week.

Girls To Enjoy Outing.

Next week Wednesday the members of The Girls' Friendly Society of St. John's Church will enjoy a day's outing in New York city where they will be met by Mrs. Knapp, who had charge of the Girls' Friendly Society when living in Kingston.

No Sunday Kissing

In England in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth centuries it was a penal offense for a man to kiss his wife or even his child on Sundays, and the penalty for such an offense was anything from a fine to doing penance in the church, and even being publicly flogged. In those days it was also illegal in Scotland to take a walk of over two miles on Sunday unless the destination was the church.

A Message to Underweight Men and Women

The one supremely good health building tonic that is also the one great weight producer known to modern science the country over is McCoy's Tablets.

They build flesh where flesh is needed—sunken cheeks, neck and chest—and many a man and woman, skinny and scrawny have thanked McCoy's after a few weeks treatment for the decided improvement in looks and figure.

Many times the increase in weight is astonishing—one exceedingly thin woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at any drug store in America.

FIGURES IN CHICAGO TURMOIL

Illicit rum rings are blamed for the recent outbreaks of bombings and shootings in Chicago. Dry agents sent there by Seymour Lowman (upper left), national prohibition chief, are accused of wounding a local officer. Arrests have been made for the bombings of the homes of Judge John S. Swanson (lower left) and United States Senator Charles S. Deneen (lower right). Mayor William H. Thompson (upper right) has ordered every resource for a quick clean-up.

Bills Vetoed By Gov. Smith

Reorganization Bill Giving Legislative Chairmen Control Over Insurance Funds Severely Criticised—State Executives Should Be Held Responsible.

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—Expressing his belief that it was never intended under our Constitution nor is it the wish of the people that members of the Legislature from small and obscure districts should control the administrative activities of the state government, Governor Smith has vetoed the Reorganization Bill which sought to require approval by the financial chairmen of the Legislature of two funds maintained in connection with the administration of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Under the bill, quarterly estimates of the vocational rehabilitation and state insurance funds would be revised and amended by the governor, and the chairmen of the Senate Finance and Assembly Ways and Means Committee instead of by the director of the budget. Both of the chairmen are at present from small communities upstate.

"There is no reason in the world," declared the governor in his veto memorandum," why two legislative leaders elected to carry out legislative functions should be placed in the position of controlling purely administrative activities. In this case not only are the activities purely administrative but they are activities which are wholly financed and partly administered by the people who insure their employes, and they are not state funds taken out of the state treasury, but are private funds only temporarily in the custody of state officials.

"I think that a warning should be issued to the people of the state against the increasing encroachments of the legislature on executive and administrative matters of this kind. I believe that the state executives should be jealous of the powers given them under the Constitution for the exercise of which they alone can be held responsible."

Four Claim Bills Vetoed.

Four claim bills also were vetoed by the governor, among them a measure dealing with a claim of the Montgomery County Agricultural Society. Nothing in the bill, the governor declared, indicated when the alleged damage took place, no departmental records referred to the matter, and "no particular location is mentioned, no specific damage alleged." Another of the claim bills sought to reimburse the Aetna Life Insurance Company for losses on a policy written in the interest of persons who suffered damage to their automobiles and personal injuries resulting from a collision with a private automobile operated by State Troopers.

"It may be possible to discover liability on the part of the state directly to the injured," said the governor, "but by no stretch of the imagination could any person claim liability on the part of the state to indemnify the insurance company."

Satisfied that a third claim bill was without merit," and intended "to circumvent a decision of the court of appeals," the governor also vetoed a measure dealing with alleged losses to the Johnson Iron Works in connection with acquisition of land by the state for improvement of the Harlem Ship Canal. The court of appeals already has decided, the governor declared, that the company was not entitled to any compensation for damages.

Numbers Once Had Sex

In ancient lore numbers had sex, odd numbers being masculine and even numbers feminine. The odd numbers always were regarded as having the greater power of the two.

How to Remove Automobile Grease from Hands

An easy way to get your hands clean of automobile grease is to wet them and pour on a few drops of Sylpho-Nathol, undiluted, and rub in as you would liquid soap. This marvelous antiseptic-deodorant instantly cuts the oil, disinfects, deodorizes. Prevents soreness. Keep a bottle of Sylpho-Nathol in the garage. At all dealers.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

F'day, Friday 6.

"Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer, will be presented by a group of artists directed by Hugo Mariani in a Good Friday program which will be broadcast through WJZ and the Blue network at 10 o'clock. "The Crucifixion" is a meditation on the passion of Christ with passages from the Bible to which has been added sacred verse. After a recitation by a tenor, in which Jesus addresses his disciples, the incidents of the crucifixion are recited by the various voices. Other programs for 10 o'clock are the Palmolive hour of music and songs through WEAF and the Red network, a concert by The Euterpians mixed quartet through WOO and a Negro arts program with Elizabeth Perry, soprano and readings by Beatrice Henderson through WGBS. Nine o'clock will find fans of the Blue network listening to a diversified program in the Wrigley musical review, and a young American artists concert from WLS. Sacred broadcasts include the oratorio "Seven Last Words of Christ" through KOA at 10:30 and WOC at 11, and a choral program "Twelfth Mass" through WPG at 10:30. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist Church, New York City, will be the presiding officer and speaker at the National Good Friday service to be broadcast at 11 o'clock. The service will be under the auspices of the Federal Council of Churches. Dr. Fosdick's subject will be "The Meaning of the Cross." A musical program will be presented by the Federal Choristers, a specially created ensemble of men's and women's voices. The Madrigal Club of Detroit, a choral organization of more than 30 women's voices, will offer a group of Easter selections through WJZ, WJR, WHAS and WSM at 6:30.

CHINESE HISTORY LOST 100 YEARS IS LIGHTED IN U. S.

Writings of T'sui Shu, Chinese Historian, Discovered in Library of Congress.

Washington.—The writings of T'sui Shu, China's first critical historian, which were lost for more than a century, have been discovered in the original edition among the books in the Chinese department of the Library of Congress.

They are believed to have been shipped to America a number of years ago and to have been stacked away on the shelves while scholars scoured libraries in China and Japan for copies.

Arthur Hummell, head of the Chinese department of the library, believes that scholars who are cataloguing the 120,000 Chinese volumes in the library will find many more volumes of rarity and importance in the course of their work. The Library of Congress collection is the largest Chinese library in America.

T'sui Shu lived from 1740 to 1816, rising from extreme poverty to a high position as a scholar and an official of Chekiang province. In his writings he attacked the old concept of a "golden age" of antiquity, in which Chinese rulers were believed to have had great moral virtue, and questioned many ancient works on history. His writings anticipated by more than a century many of the conclusions regarding ancient Chinese history which present-day scholars are reaching.

Little was known of T'sui Shu during his life except by a small group of pupils. He lived in retirement, devoting all of his time to his studies and writing. In 1822 his works were published by a number of his pupils. They bore the expense of cutting the wood-block type for the book and had five copies of his history printed.

This was about the time of the decline of the Manchu dynasty, and during the years of internal rebellion and dissension all record of the books was lost.

In 1921 Dr. Hu Shih, father of the Chinese renaissance, first discovered a part of the works in a collection of reprints of the writers of Chekiang province. The importance of T'sui Shu was immediately recognized and the discovery created considerable stir in Chinese scholastic circles. A search was begun by scholars for the complete works, which were later found in reprint in Japan.

During all this search one of the five original copies of the books had lain in the files of the congressional library.

Girl Wins $6,500 Suit When Scholars Disagree

Philadelphia.—A Common Pleas court jury put its own construction on a written betrothal contract and awarded $6,500 damages recently to Miss Pearl Soltz, twenty-eight, a trained nurse of Atlantic City.

Samuel Ellis, the other party to the agreement, maintained $1,000 was the amount of a penalty clause in the contract. Miss Soltz contended the figure was $10,000. Hebrew scholars differed in their interpretation of the writing. The jurors compromised on the amount.

The suit was a sequel to the engagement of Miss Soltz and Ellis in the summer of 1925. They met at the home of Ellis' brother, whom she was nursing. To bind their romance a contract, written in Hebrew by a rabbi, was executed at the home of the intended bride's parents at the seashore resort. The wedding never materialized and Miss Soltz began suit, basing her claim for damages on a forfeiture clause the contract contained.

This clause, Miss Soltz and her witnesses contended, was "Aseres Alafim," meaning in Hebrew $10,000. Ellis, on the other hand, insisted the word contained in the agreement was "Alaf," meaning $1,000.

Pacific Coast Has Its Own White Way

San Francisco.—The Pacific ocean may presently resemble something like a great white way.

The Department of Commerce at Washington recently listed the total of lighthouses and beacons established along its borders and on its shoals in aid of navigation and found that they exceeded 1,000. In 1900 the lighthouse bureau had but 188 Pacific lights, while the exact total for 1928 is 1,058, and in addition there are 121 fog signals and radio beacons at work in the Pacific area.

The numerous lights of today are marked by ever increasing brilliancy. The biggest and best in Pacific waters is a million candle-power affair, located at Point Sur in California, flashing every quarter second during the dark hours. The rays are visible 100 miles, a range exceeded only by the radio beacons, with warnings which can be picked up over a 200-mile radius.

The Pacific light list, which enumerates all the navigational aids, is a moderate sized book for 1928, setting down and describing each beacon, buoy and signal between Guam and Alaska and Yap and the Golden Gate. The 1928 edition accounts for hundreds of whistles, sirens, horns and chimes, which with the lights serve to warn mariners of channels and dangers.

Imitate "Canada Dry"? Gild the lily? It can't be done!

"Oh, yes it can," a lot of people thought. And so they tried it. But those people were wrong. For to imitate "Canada Dry" is as impossible and futile as trying to gild the lily. It can't be done.

Why? First, because this ginger ale is made from the purest ingredients. Second, because it contains high-grade Jamaica ginger. Third, because this ginger ale is blended in an exact proportion to produce a balanced beverage.

But most important of all—the formula from which "Canada Dry" is made is a secret known to only three men. There ultimately rests the reason for its marvelous, subtle, characteristic flavor. There rests the reason, too, for its world-wide popularity and reputation.

At War On Prohibition

THE LONG-RANGE debate between Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York (left) and William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, continues, with the latter declaring the one fundamental issue to be: "Shall a State be permitted to disregard any portion of the Constitution which it elects not to obey?" The Governor had asserted the Volstead Act was a part of the laws of New York State, and no further enforcement laws were necessary there. Said Mr. McAdoo: "Police enforcement is the principle and normal function of the State Governments. Deprived of the effective cooperation of the police of the States, the Amendment becomes a nullity. This is what happened in New York and Maryland."

Denotes Authority

The mace was a weapon of war in Europe as late as the Sixteenth century, having been used chiefly by cavalry. It is still used in one form or another by savage tribes. In England its use is continued as an emblem of authority of certain officers of state, before whom it is carried.

DELICIOUS!

Glorious Ham

for the Easter Feast!

HAM for Easter—established age-old custom! Great juicy slices of delicious, tender First Prize Hams are the rule of the day.

There's nothing better than juicy First Prize ham—sugar-glazed, mustard rubbed and studded with cloves—for your happy family's Easter dinner.

But be sure the Ham is FIRST PRIZE! For then you'll have the sweet juiciness of ham at its best—ham that is young and tender—ham sugar-cured and slowly smoked over fragrant Adirondack hardwood—ham with a neat balance between lean and fat. In other words, insist on First Prize—be sure you see the tag or brand.

—you won't forget the Flavor"

TRY THIS RECIPE

Place First Prize Ham in kettle of cold water. Bring to boil, then simmer ½ hour to the lb. Place in baking pan rind side up. Loosen rind, sprinkle fat with brown sugar, then replace rind. Mix a cupful of cooking liquid with cupful cider, or ½ cupful cider vinegar, pour over ham and bake in moderate oven for 2 hours, basting often. To brown, remove rind, place cloves in fat of ham, sprinkle with bread crumbs and return to oven for ½ hour.

He Coughed For Two Years

Swore Off

After coughing for two years almost continuously and losing much sleep, a man of considerable means got thin and tired and worn out, made his will and was ready to quit the big game of life.

A friend spoke to him about Bronchuline Emulsion—a REAL medicine—and now life to him is very sweet indeed.

Tough old coughs—persistent coughs—coughs that hang on and rob people of their sleep—coughs that die hard and wear you down—those are the kind of coughs that Bronchuline likes to tackle.

Many times such coughs linger after the grippe or a heavy cold, and if you have one or know of anyone who has one that won't yield, keep Bronchuline Emulsion in mind.

It isn't just a cheap sweet cough syrup—it's the best cough remedy—and the best is never cheap. McBride's Drug Stores sell lots of it so do up to date dealers everywhere. A couple of doses is enough to stop an ordinary cough.

Give Your Children the Extra Nourishment They Need At This Time.

This is the time to start giving your children a pure, wholesome spring tonic such as Father John's Medicine.

It will help their systems to get rid of the poisons which have collected during the winter months.

It will also give the children the added nourishment they need at this time of year to help them to build new bone and flesh.

Father John's Medicine is a preparation of the purest cod liver oil scientifically combined with other ingredients to make it wholesome and easy to digest. Start giving it to your children today.

GREAT VITAMIN STRENGTH

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

Inter-Continental Link Plan Transit Interests

By WILSON WATERS
International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

YOU may be able to make a direct trip to Europe.

Plans have been suggested by Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania R. R. system, for a fast four day service across the North Atlantic.

Montauk Point, at the eastern tip of Long Island, would be the American terminal of the express steamers and connections will be made there by the Long Island Railroad, one of the Pennsylvania lines, Atterbury said.

His announcement, made in a letter to Representative Fred A. Britton (R.), of Illinois, was the first declaration that the Pennsylvania system is prepared to give full co-operation to the new ship service which its backers declare will revolutionize trans-Atlantic passenger transportation:

"If we were asked to become financially interested, we would, of course, be glad to give the matter careful consideration, but at this time can hardly say what our position would be in that respect."

Atterbury endorses Montauk Point as a terminal for the express lines, pointing out that much time could be saved by rail connections there for passengers, mail and urgent freight and express matter. He said:

"A fast fleet of passenger ships between Montauk Point (Fort Pond Bay) and Europe

GEN. W. W. ATTERBURY

is of great importance to the country and of special interest to our railroad.

"Fort Pond Bay is a natural safe harbor and presents no engineering difficulties.

"In shape the bay is semi-circular and in area it is fairly comparable with that section of the Hudson River between Twenty-second street and Forty-second street. The general depth of the bay is about five feet more than the draft of the largest passenger ship afloat."

Commenting on the letters, Representative Britten said:

"I am hopeful that Summer of 1930 will see the inauguration of four day ships across the ocean."

ARMOR PLATE COAT FAILS TO SAVE COUNTY ATTORNEY

Gettysburg, Pa., April 5 (AP).—Exploding nitroglycerine in the vault of the Gettysburg postoffice early Wednesday hurled a small safe into such a position that burglars were unable to open it and obtain the $500 in cash and $22,000 in stamps which it contained.

High Price for Ward Diary.

London, April 5 (AP).—Dr. Abraham Rosenbach, of Philadelphia, paid £10,500 ($52,500) at auction Wednesday for the Ward diary, dated 1629 to 1681. The diary was kept by the vicar of Stratford-on-Avon and is valuable for its references to Shakespeare.

ROSENDALE GRANGE OFFICERS IN NEW REGALIA

Rosendale, April 5.—The regular meeting of Rosendale Grange, No. 1501, P. of H. was held in All Saints' Parish House on March 26, with a large roll call. Meeting called to order by Worthy Master E. I. Lefever, Jr. Prayer by the chaplain, the Rev. James G. Cameron, singing by all present. Salutation to the flag. Reading of minutes, reports, etc. Then conferring of the third and fourth degrees on 17 new members, which was exemplified by the degree team, and it is surprising how much ritualistic beauty it contains, when effectively brought out. The officers in their handsome new regalias presented by Worthy Master Lefever, made a fine appearance. The committee on refreshments, in charge of host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Ira Spindler, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Duffy, Mr. and Mrs. Brodsky, George McAvoy and Mrs. Burns served a fine collation. Through the courtesy of Brother Floyd Dietz, and the men of the grange, a fine accordion was presented which was much appreciated, anticipating some pleasant evenings. Worthy Lecturer Mrs. Arthur Merrihew announced the next meeting Monday, April 9. A fine program has been arranged, to which all members are to respond in "Sayings, from American History," and "Shall we Buy Ready Mixed Feed or Mix Our Own," will be the discussion. An excellent place to start such questions and discuss the subjects.

Easter Vacation In the Schools

The high school and grade schools will close today for the Easter vacation. The students will return to school on Monday, April 16.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, April 5.—The monthly business meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Maria Hasbrouck.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Smith returned from New York where they have been attending the Methodist conference.

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock the two churches will present a short Easter pageant at the M. E. Church. The pageant is entitled "The Challenge of the Cross." The public is cordially invited to view this inspiring pageant.

The choir of the Reformed Church will meet for practice on Thursday evening after the passion service. All members of the choir are urged to be present. This will be the last practice for the Easter music.

Dr. James Cantine conducted the services at the Reformed Church on Palm Sunday. He preached to a goodly number. Due to the absence of the Rev. J. H. Smith, many of the M. E. people met with the Reformed Church congregation.

The Rev. C. Van Tol of the Reformed Church will have charge of the regular services on Sunday. At 10:30 o'clock there will be divine worship. The theme for the morning will be, "If Christ be not raised?" A Communion service will also be celebrated on Easter Sunday morning. All those who desire to unite with the church on confession may meet with the consistory on Saturday evening at the parsonage between 7 and 9 o'clock. The Sunday school will meet after the morning service. At 7 o'clock the C. E. will meet with the pastor as leader. The topic is, "Why we believe in immortality."

Services at St. Peter's Church on Easter Day will be held at 8:45 a. m. instead of 9:30 a. m. as previously announced. Since this is a Communion service Father Hornby hopes all communicants will be present.

Services will be held at the M. E. Church as usual. The Rev. J. H. Smith will be in charge.

DR. CARTER TO OPEN OFFICE ON SATURDAY

Dr. C. D. Carter, the well known dentist, whose office has been closed on lower Broadway while alterations were being made, expects to open again Saturday morning. In addition to his old office he has taken over the suite of rooms formerly occupied by County Attorney Robert G. Groves as a law office. Dr. Carter has had installed the latest dental equipment, and his new offices will be one of the finest in the city.

Set Glorious Example

Miss Loretta T. Walsh was the first woman to enlist in the United States navy during the World war, and was enrolled at Philadelphia on March 21, 1917.

AVIS, THE BIRD MAN, AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM.

On Friday evening, April 20, Edward Avis, bird mimic, lecturer and violinist, will give a concert in the auditorium of the high school under the auspices of the Esmoughs Junior Audubon Society of the Kingston High School. In reproducing the songs and calls of the birds Mr. Avis is probably without an equal. His whistling is a natural gift possessed in a like degree by no other known student of the art, while his bird songs are the result of constant study and companionship with the birds. An enjoyable evening is assured all those who attend the recital.

Grave of Popular Poet

The body of John Howard Payne, the author of "Home, Sweet Home," is buried under the trees of Georgetown, D. C., in Oak Hill cemetery, where Payne used to walk with his friends.

NEW PALTZ.

New Paltz, April 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Royal Reed entertained Mr. and Mrs. Kilby Johnson of Highland at dinner Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cook entertained at cards on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Thomas Waye received the first prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen O'Brien entertained the members of the Altar Guild of St. Joseph's Church and their husbands at cards on Friday evening.

Lewis Woolsey, a senior at Yale and son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Woolsey, is home for his Easter vacation.

The subscription dance was held Wednesday evening in the Grange Hall.

DeWitt Clinton Seward, Jr., a senior at the Northwood Prep. School, Lake Placid, is now home for his Easter vacation.

Mrs. Lawrence H. Vanden Berg entertained at bridge Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Stahl motored to New York city on Friday.

Mrs. D. C. Seward entertained at bridge on Thursday afternoon at her home on Huguenot street.

Mrs. Robert Deyo spent Friday in Paterson, New Jersey.

C. C. Ward has sold his house on Mohonk avenue to Mrs. Humphrey, sister of Edgar V. Beebe. Mr. Ward has purchased a lot on Excelsior avenue where he intends to build in the future.

Mrs. Herman Jenkins and daughter were in town on Tuesday.

School closed Wednesday noon, April 4, for the Easter vacation.

Janet Ward has a new bicycle, given her as a present from her grandfather.

On account of the thawing and freezing for the last five months, roads everywhere are in the worst condition they have been in for many years. Much profitable work has been done the past week scraping the village streets. Some of our village firemen helped clean up Main street on Tuesday by washing it down with the village hose.

The New Paltz Normal Varsity basketball team journeyed to Cairo last week and played the Cairo High School team. The game is said to have been the roughest in the history of the New Paltz team, and they were beaten 46 to 35, but not until after most of the New Paltz team were "out", either put out or knocked out.

Myron L. Newton, from the Middletown district, has returned from a motor trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Elting have returned from a short visit to New York city.

Harry Shaw has been a visitor in town.

Mrs. Daniel A. Hasbrouck, who has been ill for some time, is convalescing.

Frank J. Steen of Balmville was in town recently and called on relatives.

There was an exhibit and sale of goods such as linens, odd prizes, gifts of all kinds, jewelry and books in the hall at the Normal School Tuesday. The sale was conducted by two representatives from the Vassar Flag Shop, Poughkeepsie.

Thomas P. Waye will move from the Mrs. Edward MacLaury house on Huguenot street to the Gillespie house on Church street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Place of Poughkeepsie spent the week end with Mrs. Place's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Clearwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Linzere and family spent last Sunday in Springtown as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Fitch.

Mrs. A. L. F. Deyo and daughter, Elizabeth, who have been spending the winter in Florida, returned to their home near Gardiner last Monday.

Miss Polly Akin, a former student at New Paltz Normal, visited school last Monday.

Do Husbands Really Trust Their Wives?

"I'm through with you," he cried. "You are no longer my wife. I should have killed you as you lay in your lover's arms. Take what you want and get out—and do it quick."* (From "First in a Woman's Heart," May True Story Magazine.")

[I]

THE Winston home. Betty Winston has just come in—to find Herbert, her husband, awaiting her.

Herbert: I'm sorry, but I shall have to ask you to stop going to Guido Petti's studio. He's no good. His affairs with women are the talk of the town. You must not be seen going to his studio again.

Betty: You shouldn't believe all the silly stories you hear. No matter what Guido's relations with other women may be, he is my instructor, and a perfect gentleman—with me. I shall continue my studies with him.

Herbert: (coldly) Very well. Just remember you were warned.

[II]

Weeks pass. It is late afternoon. Guido Petti, the great foreign music master, and Betty, are in the studio alone.

The lesson is over. They sit in the half-light together, while the caressing sound of Guido's voice holds Betty in a kind of spell.

Guido: (drawing her to him) So beautiful, so talented you are. Soon we shall go abroad—just you and I. If you are ready we could leave at once.

Betty: (her head whirling) But—my husband—

Guido: Your husband! Bah! What does he know of your desires? So young you are—so lovely—

The next moment he has clasped her in his arms—kissing her with a fierce passion she is powerless to resist.

Unheard by either, the door opens—someone starts to enter—then retreats, closing the door softly.

[III]

The Winston home—two hours later. Husband and wife confront each other—the one white with fury, the other almost speechless with fear.

Herbert: Lies! All lies! You're like all the rest of the women who visit that studio. I believed you when you told me you went there to study. But now I know you for what you are, a common—

Betty: (throwing herself upon him) Stop, Herbert! You don't know what you're saying. I swear—

Herbert: (flinging her aside) I'm through with you. You are no longer my wife. I should have killed you as you lay in your lover's arms. Take what you want and get out—and do it quick.

[IV]

So it had come—the parting of the ways—after their first short year of marriage. What a ghastly ending to a union that had been so rich in promise of happiness.

But was it really the end? No, on the contrary, it was only the beginning. For what happened to Betty after she was driven from home by her husband completes one of the most heart-rending dramas ever enacted in real life.

You will want to read the rest of this startling story, "First in a Woman's Heart." It appears complete in May True Story Magazine.

Life's Most Dramatic Stories Frankly, Vividly Told—

LOOK into the faces you see about you. Who would suspect that behind those sparkling eyes and smiling lips there may be secret turmoil—a seething drama of love, a story of passionate hate, an epic of self-sacrifice, a poem of sorrow and tears?

How little we know of the inner lives of those we see about us! How thrilling it would be if we could lift the curtain of pretense and see what each soul conceals!

Yet that is exactly what happens every month in True Story Magazine. In its pages, men and women who have lived and loved, erred and suffered, struggled and conquered or failed, frankly bare their most intimate secrets.

There are fourteen such narratives in May True Story Magazine—each one a startling revelation of life. Don't miss this issue. Your newsdealer has it. The price is only a quarter. Get your copy today.

(Above)—ANY MOMENT THEY MIGHT BE DISCOVERED. When her dearest friend, Bernice, was left a widow, Leona, out of pity, took the girl into her house. And then one day Leona found the girl she had sheltered had secretly stolen her husband's love. What did she do? (Read "The Serpent in the House," May True Story Magazine.)

THE LARGEST NEWSSTAND SALE IN THE WORLD—TWO MILLION MONTHLY

ENDS DESPAIR AS WIFE WAITS STORK'S COMING

Man Dies in Gas-Filled Kitchen While Mate and Children Sleep.

Washington.—Black specters of hopeless despair recently held a veritable dance of death in the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Carricks.

The man and woman tried in vain to fall asleep with the grimacing imps of circumstance parading by, led by that ugly hag, Tomorrow.

The woman was struggling to control her nerves. She knew that sometime in the next 24 hours she must for the sixth time in the past 15 years, enter into the agony of childbirth.

Future Is Dreary.

The man was struggling with his thoughts. Employed as a truck driver, he received a meager wage. The hospital bills would be heavy. There would be another mouth to feed. Long since the rosy tints of hope had faded from his horizon. He looked into the future. Nothing but bills and more bills, economies and more economies, and the monotony of driving a truck six days a week for years and years.

In another room in the little home five children peacefully slumbered.

Alton Carricks got out of bed. He told his wife that he was going down to the kitchen and make himself a hot drink.

Absorbed in her own worries, she thought no more of it. She didn't notice when he failed to return and finally she fell into a troubled sleep.

He Was Rid of the Specters.

They would manage somehow to get through the ordeal of the morrow and of the expensive weeks to follow, she thought. They always had.

When she awakened he had not returned. She couldn't understand what had delayed him.

Carricks lay stretched out on his overcoat on the kitchen floor, the five gas jets of the stove wide open. What he had found for himself alone there in the night had been the hottest and bitterest and, perhaps, the most soothing of all drinks in the world—death.

His Troubles Over.

He was rid of the specters. He would never have to pay for this and pay for that and pay for the other thing again. He would not drive a truck tomorrow nor the next day nor for all eternity. The dreadful monotony of labor was over.

The first pangs of childbirth were tearing the body of the woman as she looked down on the body.

In another room the five children still were sleeping and outside the window the sparrows were chirping in the snow.

The mother was alone—so utterly, terribly alone—to face the trials of the day.

The fire department rescue squad, frantically summoned, rushed to the home at 940 Carrol street southeast, but they could do nothing. Casualty hospital physicians said that Carricks had been dead for several hours.

Loops Loop in Plane to Relax From Study

St. Paul, Minn.—Looping the loop in an airplane to set a new world's record provided recreation and relaxation from arduous law studies for Gene Shank of St. Paul.

He set a new mark of 515 loops in 226 minutes in a flight over the St. Paul airport February 4. Delvin W. Maynard, "the flying parson," held the former record of 315, established in France.

"I could have kept it up indefinitely if the gasoline supply hadn't become exhausted," he said. "To relieve the monotony of the 'ups and downs,' I counted the automobiles lined up at the airport every time I headed downward."

The St. Paul youth flew a light commercial ship. Previous marks were established with heavier craft.

Shank is twenty-two. His parents live on a farm near Morgan, Minn.

Had Him Pinched

Baltimore.—Fortified by a "few drinks" Phillip Nagle demanded $2 to buy a pair of shoes and proclaimed himself boss of the household. Then Mrs. Nagle had him arrested.

Proof Positive

New York.—A husband's attempt to kill himself was cited by his wife in court as proof of his cruelty to her.

OLIVE BRIDGE.

Olive Bridge, April 5.—The Rev. and Mrs. Orson Rice have been attending the M. E. conference. All are glad they will return for another year.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Rose are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Webber are expected to move in William Ostrander's house.

Miss Helen Oakley spent the week end with her girl friend, Gladys Van Dermark.

Mr. and Mrs. Berton Winchell spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. D. Morey.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beesmer are having a water system installed.

There was no school Monday on account of the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Quick.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Merritt spent the evening with her grandmother, Mrs. Winchell.

Seymour Levine, who has been very ill at the hospital, is expected home soon.

Dr. Dumond is kept very busy on account of the illness of many people.

H. Bailey purchased one of J. V. Merrihew's fine horses.

Cleaning house is the order of the day.

Mrs. E. Silkworth is very ill. All hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barringer took supper with Mr. and Mrs. William Quick Saturday and Monday night last.

A fortune awaits the man who devises some plan to keep the people out of debt.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

AMERICAN INDIAN DESIGNS SERVE AS INSPIRATION FOR A SERIES OF MODERN PRINTS — OTHERS ARE IN THE PRIM CALICO DESIGNS OF OLDEN DAYS

Paris—Among the myriad of new prints that have appeared in shops and in smart dressmaking establishments are those which have something of the prim quality of old-fashioned calicoes and such printed cottons as were made into fine patches for great-grandmother's quilts. Tiny little spriks and equally tiny flowers add their charm to grander designs, in which may be included the series inspired by American Indian tribes.

One of the loveliest of these has the war-bonnet of a Sioux chief as its main motif, which may sound too ultra for the average woman, but is so adroitly handled by the designer that it becomes not only possible but desirable. These prints are American in fact as well as in spirit.

NICOLE GROULT CONCENTRATES TIERED FULNESS AT THE SIDES

Large Yellow Flowers Pattern a Blue Chiffon Made with Little Curving Hip Yoke and a Great Deal of Fulness at the Sides of the Tiered Skirt. A Yellow Shoulder Flower and a Black Bow Are Details.

It has become the fashion in the past few years to introduce not only animal and human figures into brocades and prints, but scenic effects, even including architectural features. It surely speaks well for our knowledge of good composition that many of these designs are not only possible, but artistic. For scarfs and such accessories, they are perhaps most valuable, but with the present appreciation of the printed dress they are timely to a degree.

Chanel emphasizes the print that is used for the lining and dress of an ensemble by repeating it for the flat handbag, out of one corner of which is a handkerchief of the same. Handkerchiefs have dared to grow larger, inspired by the success of the man's-size lace-cornered chiffon type carried for evening.

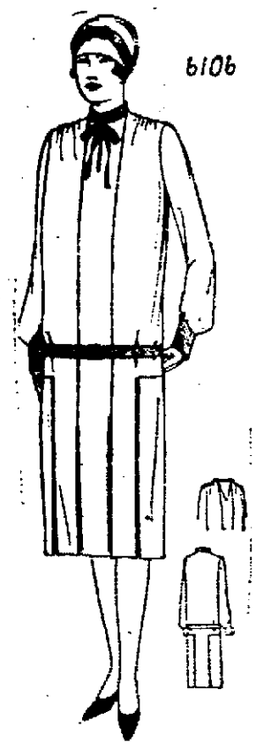
OUR DAILY PATERN.



A Stylish, Becoming Model (For Mature Figures.)

6106.—Wool crepe, twill, crepe de chine or satin crepe could be used for this attractive style. It has length-giving slenderizing lines.

The pattern is cut in 8 sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 46 inch size will require 4¼ yards of 39 inch material together with ⅜ yard of contrasting material for facing on collar, cuffs and belt. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 2¾ yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Spring and Summer 1928 Book of Fashions, showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 20 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Ancient Greek Perfumes

Among the Athenians at the time of its greatest glory the use of perfumes was almost universal with both men and women. Violet was the favorite perfume. Mint, thyme, marjoram and other aromatic herbs were used.

STOP THE FAT AND GET THIN
The way to reduction is to stop the formation of fat. Modern science has found that way—by turning your food into fuel and energy—by supplying a natural element that helps do that. It is much better than starvation. That modern, scientific method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. Now the results in slender figures, new beauty and vitality, are seen everywhere.
Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So you know the effects are beneficial, and why they all occur. Learn what so many have learned in 20 years about it. Do it now. Ask your druggist for a $1 box of Marmola and learn what it means to you.

SILVER THREADS AMONG THE GOLD
TO the dear old lady of the poem, gray hair was appropriate enough. But to the youthful woman—whose face is unlined and whose spirit is buoyant—gray hair is an affliction. She turns to L'Oreal, the harmless, effective product of French skill, to renew the natural coloration of hair that is beginning to lose its beauty.
L'Oreal may be had in three standard packages
L'Oreal Rapid 1, for hair that is turning, but has much of its original color. Is quickly applied; immediately effective. 6 shades. Unaffected by sun or water. (Send coupon for free sample.)
L'Oreal-Henné, for much gray hair. Contains vegetable Henna and other harmless ingredients which give the full color of nature. Permanent, even, easy to use. (Not sampled.)
L'Oreal-Henné Shampoo — (From Paris) gives a sheen and fluffiness to the hair. (Not a dye.)
Your hairdresser or druggist has every form of L'Oreal. Get the sort you need today!
Guaranteed harmless.

The PERFECT SHORTENING

JOHN F. JELKE CO. GOOD LUCK OLEOMARGARINE
Of course it's better
to be America's most widely-used margarine
Made of nourishing meat products instead of cheaper vegetable oils, GOOD LUCK has the flavor of expensive spreads-for-bread at just about half their cost. No wonder it outsells all other margarines despite its slightly higher price. Try GOOD LUCK . . . on your table and in cooking . . . and see how much better it is. At your grocer's.

ELEANOR GUNN On Fashions

Femininity Expressed in Fashions Worn at Southern Resorts

From Left to Right:

A Blue and White Printed Chiffon Employs Side Fulness, a Bolero and a Scarf Neckline Faced with White.

Graduated Gold Pearls Are Used to Embroider a Jumper Dress of White Crepe in Which the Pleated Skirt Alternates White and Coral. The Natural Ballibuntl Hat is Banded with Coral Ribbon.

An Effective Ensemble Joins a Blue and White Printed Crepe with a Jacket of Sapphire Velveteen. Bands of Light and Dark Blue Silk Trim the Dress and Are Repeated on the Felt Hat. The Jacket is Lined with the Print.

Tan and Blue Printed Crepe Composes a Frock with a Ruffled Neckline, Cuffs, and Insets at the Waistline of Beige Georgette. The Hat is a Light Blue Crocheted Straw.

A Gray Jersey Ensemble Combines a Jumper Dress with a Coat That is Diagonally Banded in Black and White. The Small Hat is of Gray Felt.

"These amazing suds wash clothes whiter so safely, so easily!"
says Mrs. Mary W. Smith, 41 Johnston Ave.

"I WAS amazed to see how white clothes came, when I first used Rinso in my washer," says this delighted local woman, one of thousands who have written us.

"It's so easy to get them snowy now! Why, you don't have to boil or scrub a thing. No wonder clothes don't fray out at the edges as they used to! As for my colored pieces—they seem to get brighter and prettier every time I wash them with Rinso. It's so safe!

"It's great for washing dishes, too. Takes grease off like magic. I use it for practically all my cleaning now, floors, sinks, woodwork, etc. A little Rinso goes so far that it's the most economical soap in the long run.

"Rinso deserves all the praise it gets, and more!"

Lasting suds—in washer or tub

Rinso suds are the secret of its popularity! Rich and creamy in any water, hard or soft—these quick-working suds rinse out in a jiffy, and carry all the dirt and stains along. Clothes come from washer or tub the whitest ever.

No wonder 32,000 demonstrators use Rinso to show their washers at their best. No wonder the makers of 32 leading washers say, "Use Rinso for safety—and for whitest, brightest, washes!"

Whether you use a washer or do the week's wash by hand—Rinso is all you need. This famous granulated soap loosens and soaks out the dirt and stains, without the help of bar soaps, chips or powders.

Saves scrubbing and boiling

Why, with Rinso you don't even need to boil the wash—clothes come so sweet and sparkling from the washer or tub!

Clothes last longer, too, for there's no scrubbing to wear edges thin. The grimiest hems and cuffs come snowy with little or no rubbing.

Get Rinso in time for next washday. See how it saves your hands. Just feel how weighty the Rinso package is! You get your full money's worth when you buy this compact granulated soap.

For economy and best results, follow the easy directions on box.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, April 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Van Leuvan and Edgar Van Wagenen of Broadway visited their brother, Gilbert Van Wagenen, in Poughkeepsie Monday. Mr. Van Wagenen is quite ill.

Mrs. Minnie Davis, P. N. G., and Mrs. Elsie K. Hutchings, P. N. G., of Marietta Rebekah Lodge, attended the District Post Grand Association and District meeting at Bearsville Wednesday.

The Port Ewen Reformed Church, the Rev. Philip Goertz, pastor, invites all in the community to the services which are being held in the Sunday school room of the Reformed Church during Passion Week. We all enjoyed A. M. Taylor and Charles Van Orden's inspiring services. They helped to bring us in closer touch with our Saviour. The third service will be conducted by Miss Edith Lampman, the subject being "The Intercessory Prayer", and the fourth by the pastor, the topic being "Victory in Tragedy". On Sunday morning at six o'clock a sunrise service will be observed. The Christian Endeavorers have planned a special service for that time. After the service a waffle breakfast will be served. All who have been asked to donate for the breakfast kindly bring them to Miss Dorothy Yeck's home on Green street, so that they are there at least by Friday night. On Easter Sunday the morning topic will be "Easter Morning". In the evening at 7:30 o'clock a "Song and Picture Service" will be held. The special self-denial offering will be dedicated for the painting of the church. It is a well-known thing that it was Irish servant girls who built St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York city. In gratitude for a Saviour's all pervading love the congregation and friends of the church are going to gladly honor them with their gifts.

The Port Ewen Choral Club will meet Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the church. All the presidents of the various societies of the church are asked to have their historical reports ready by April 15 in order that the celebration committee may have time to prepare the anniversary book. The various choirmen thank you for your prompt attention.

A sunrise service will be held in Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning, (Easter) April 8, at 6:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Epworth League. A breakfast will be served at the close of the service. Every member of the league and church are invited to this service in commemoration of this glorious

The man who goes to church Sunday night should remember that the Lord loveth also the proper parker.

World Awaits Vatican's Response to Mussolini's Ban On Catholic Clubs

At the left is Premier Mussolini and at the right His Holiness Pope Pius, who are at odds over the control of Italy's youth. Upper center, left to right, Cardinal Gasparri, representative of the Pope, and Rev. Francis Duffy, chaplain of World War fame. Lower center, left to right, Rev. John Kelly and Rev. Cashin, of New York.

(International Newsreel)

By WILSON WALTERS

International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent.

Catholic leaders here, no less than in Italy, were aroused by Premier Mussolini's decree abolishing all educational organizations, such as Catholic Boy Scouts, for the Italian youth, except the official Fascist training grounds. Thus far the Pope has made no promise of answering. The Rev. Wilfrid Parsons, S. J., Catholic editor, said: "As a matter of theory, the Catholic Church, always and everywhere, has stood for the right of the parent over the education of his children, against any undue encroachment by the State. This position the Pope is bound to uphold and it is not a matter of personal preference with him." The Rev. E. Cashin, former chaplain at Sing Sing, declared: "It seems deplorable that Mussolini should spoil all the good he has done by overdoing it." The Rev. Francis P. Duffy, chaplain of the old 69th Regiment: "Less Benito Mussolini and more Thomas Jefferson would be a mighty good dose for Italy at the present time."

In Rome, Fascists blame the political opinions of Cardinal Gasparri, secretary of state of the Holy See, for the friction between the Vatican and the secular government. The Cardinal declared recently, he has no influence with the Pope, who, throughout his reign, had acted solely on his own initiative.

Services at Accord.

Accord, April 5.—There will be services in the Reformed Church on Easter Sunday at 10:30 a. m. and in the chapel at Mettacahonts at 3 p. m., and the Rev. John B. Steketee is to be the preacher. At 7:30 p. m., there will be an Easter pageant in the Rochester Church. The public is invited.

It takes some women 45 years to reach the age of 30.

SEAL SALE CLEARS MORE THAN $5,000

A special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, was held at the home of the Secretary, Dr. Mary Gage-Day, on Wednesday afternoon, Judge Fowler, the president, presiding. It was reported by the secretary who had charge of the seal sale, that the net proceeds from the sale were $5,122.92, a splendid showing, especially as the local committee had paid into the national organization for assistance in state and national tuberculosis work, 17 per cent of the gross receipts, thus furthering the work at home and abroad. A vote of heartiest thanks was given Dr. Day for her efficient and tireless service in the conducting of the sale.

As the committee had gone before the public to sell the seals with the understanding that part of the funds should be used in the further operating of Camp Happyland for undernourished, under-weight and underdeveloped children it was arranged to continue the work this summer for the months of July and August. This camp is entirely a preventive measure not a curative one, and no sick children are taken. Now that it is fully organized it is expected that it will meet with even larger success than it did last year.

It was also voted to authorize the secretary to order all necessary supplies for next year's Seal Sale, as requested by the State Charities Aid Association.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception up to 7:30 Wednesday evening was first-class. After that, and until 10 o'clock, there was a vast amount of fading. After 10 reception was again good, with the silvertown program especially fine.

Reception this morning was good.

Zion Church Meeting.

This evening the members of the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church are requested to meet at the parsonage at 8 o'clock. The regular prayer meeting will be held on Friday evening of this week.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE ROPED ARENA LAST NIGHT.

(By The Associated Press.)

Cincinnati—Luis Carpentero, Toledo, won from Happy Atherton, Indianapolis (10). Frankie Palmo, Cincinnati, defeated Jack Penney, Toledo (6). Royal Cox, Indianapolis, and Teddy Blake, Toledo, drew (6). Knockout Morgan, Toledo, defeated Allen Watson, Indianapolis (6). Cherokee Kid, Indianapolis, and Harry Lang, Cincinnati, drew (6).

Dayton, Ohio—Jackie Dugan, Louisville, won from Al Corbett, Cleveland (12).

Berlin—Max Schmelling, European light heavyweight champion, won the German title from Franz Diener (15).

LAYTON LEADS IN BILLIARD TOURNAMENT

Chicago, April 5 (AP).—Because a comparatively "green player" did the unexpected and upset the defending champion, John Layton, of St. Louis led the field in the national three cushion Billiard tournament as it entered its third round today.

The upset was scored by Earl Lookabaugh, 20 years old, Chicago youth, who beat the champion, Otto Reinert of Philadelphia, 50 to 41 in 54 innings in the feature and final game of yesterday's play. The victory was Lookabaugh's first in two starts and the champion's first defeat in as many tournament matches.

SPECULATES IN DIAMOND STARS

Portland President Doubles Income of His Club.

Developing bush leaguers for the major league market is ringing up many a dollar for the Portland baseball club of the Pacific Coast league. About as much cash is received from this source as from the gate receipts.

Thomas Turner, president of the Portland team, is one of the leading members of the "ivory" exchange. A shrewd business man and a keen observer of talent, Turner has enriched his club's treasury by more than a quarter of a million dollars recently in speculating with players.

Turner's latest coup was the $112,000 sale of Chalmer Cissell, a shortstop, to the Chicago White Sox, which netted a profit of approximately $100,000. Turner brought Cissell a year ago from Des Moines for about $13,000.

An offer of $65,000 from the White Sox for Pitcher Fred Ormsn was declined by Turner who knows his market as thoroughly as a Wall street broker.

Two present members of Connie Mack's Athletics are Turner products. This "David Harum" of baseball purchased Gordon Cochrane, catcher, for $300 and then sold him to Mack for $75,000. Pitcher Rube Walberg cost Turner a small railroad fare, but he was sold to the New York Giants for $25,000. Manager McGraw returned the player to Portland and from there he was rebartered to the Athletics again for $225,000.

In a player trade, Bill Hunnefield was secured by Portland and shortly afterward he was sold to Cincinnati for $30,000. The Reds paid half that amount down and then refused to make any further payments, shipping the infielder back to the coast. According to reports the Reds lost $15,000 in the deal. Turner then sold Hunnefield to the White Sox for $50,000.

More than a decade ago, Turner was a member of the Athletics' pitching staff. Now he spends most of his time traveling about the country appraising ball players in the sequestered sand lots where they grow.

Former Major Leaguers in International Loop

Here are a few former big leaguers the fans of the International league may look upon the coming season, a few reasons why it is predicted all attendance records will be broken for the minor circuits:

Catchers—Bill Skiff of Newark, Leo Dixon of Baltimore, Mickey Devine of Buffalo.

Pitchers—Walter Johnson of Newark, Hugh McQuillan of Newark, Jack Bentley of Newark, Rip Collins of Toronto, Al Mamaux of Newark, Curly Ogden of Buffalo, Vic Keen of Rochester, Bob Shawkey of Montreal, Jim Bagby of Jersey City, and others.

Infielders—Goldie Rapp of Jersey City, Jack Fournier of Newark, Rube Lutzke of Newark, and others.

Outfielders—Bill Lamar of Newark, Nick Cullop of Buffalo, Merwin Jacobson of Toronto, Frank Gilhooley of Jersey City and Billy Southworth of Rochester.

BLUE SOX TO PLAY JOHNSON ALL-STARS.

The Blue Sox will meet the Johnson All-Stars at Hasbrouck Park Sunday, April 15, in the first game of the season. The Sox, who made a good record on the diamond last year, have added several new players to their lineup and expect to meet some strong opposition during the coming season.

The Blue Sox, who will take orders this year from a former big leaguer, will have the following men to choose from Sunday: F. Albright, John Tomascski, Jack Cassidy, S. Wojcio, C. Steinhilber, John Dudek, R. Williams, T. Lewis, P. Krostek, Joseph Tomaseski, W. Peden and C. Jordan.

The Johnson All-Stars, a pickup team, assembled for the purpose of giving the Sox a tryout, will be made up of men from the following collection: F. Motrie, A. Gill, F. Leskie, T. Zellmer, F. Carter, J. Carter, H. Swint, R. Williams, R. Hinkley, Joe Sessler, C. Uhl, G. Schatzel and N. Huber.

The Blue Sox are all set for the game which will start at 2:30 p. m. The team has procured new uniforms for this season and expects to make a fine appearance. It is anticipated that Hasbrouck Park will be visited by a goodly number to see the opening game.

School 4 Beat St. Mary's.

School No. 4, winners of the Public Grade School League for this season, defeated St. Mary's Parochial School 43-23 in the first of a three game series at the Saints' court Wednesday afternoon. It is expected that the next meeting will be on the Y. M. C. A. court in the near future.

Kept Barefooted All Winter by Pirates

"A fine club you're on, 'Buckshot,'" said a friend of Glenn Wright as they met at a hockey match in Kansas City recently.

"What's wrong?" asked Glenn.

"Nothing, only you have kept me barefooted all winter and even the grocerymen is still unpaid."

"Oh, you mean the series with the Yanks, don't you?" came back Glenn.

"That's it."

"Well, I'd like to play them again," chirped the Pirate shortstop.

"What for, the experience?" cut in Dr. Johnny Leven.

That's all, Glenn made no comeback.

Leads Third Time

Spike Webb, veteran coach of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., is to coach the Olympic team of boxers at Amsterdam for the third successive time.

(International Newsreel)

STEEPLECHASE AT PENN TRACK MEET

Philadelphia, April 5 (AP).—In an effort to aid the Olympic committee in developing athletes for the 3,000 meter steeplechase race, Lawson Robertson, head coach of the American Olympic team and also of the Pennsylvania track team, has had the event placed on the program of the University of Pennsylvania relay April 27 and 28.

The steeplechase will replace the 2-mile international race, which has been one of the features of the carnival for years. College distance runners from many sections of the country are expected by Robertson to enter for the competition.

The event will be run on the inside of the cinder path on Franklin Field. Every quarter mile will be a water jump, with three feet hurdles firmly fixed on the edge of the jump. The hazard will be 14 feet long with five feet of water at the deepest point. Each competitor must jump over or go through the water. Stepping aside will automatically eliminate the contestant.

CARR CREEK STILL AN OUTSTANDING CONTENDER

Chicago, April 5 (AP).—Like a lively rubber ball, the harder the Carr Creek, Kentucky, High School basketball team is bounced, the higher they rebound.

Bounced more than once by athletic obscurity, which handicapped it with no gymnasium, no coach and not even a gym suit, this sturdy team of mountaineers today had rebounded as an outstanding contender for the national interscholastic basketball championship.

Twice, this team has turned back basketball teams from cities that could tuck Carr Creek away in a corner and not notice it. The first victory over the Albuquerque, N. M., Indians, was a surprise; the second, won last night over the strong Austin, Texas, team by a score of 25 to 16, was the sensation of the tournament.

HUP. QUINTET BEAT CONGREGATIONALS, 42-36

Taking the lead in the early stage of the contest the Hupmobiles defeated the Congregationals, 42-36, at the Y. M. C. A. court Wednesday night. The commission of fouls was slight and neither quintet collected a point from the free throw line. Auduchefsky with 16 and A. Gilday with 14 did the highest scoring for the winners. Maroon and Cassell each registered 12 for the Congregationals.

The score:

U. S. STARS TO OPPOSE CANADA'S BEST ATHLETES

Toronto, Ont., April 5 (AP).—Nearly two hundred entries from leading Canadian and American runners have been received for three road races to be staged here tomorrow.

Among the Americans entered are Whitney Michelson of Stamford, Conn.; Fred Ward, Millrose A. C., New York; Frank Mendling, Buffalo, and Harold Bauer, Lakewood, Ohio.

Practically all the United States stars will compete against Canada's best in the 15-mile feature race. Listed to start in this race are Johnny Miles, of Hamilton, who won the Boston marathon in 1926 and Cliff Bricker, of Galt, chief hope of the Dominion in the Olympic marathon.

Results of the Major Contests

New York, April 5 (AP).—Annual educational tours of major league baseball clubs through the states are developing into give and take affairs in which the little fellows are giving baseball's best some terrific punishment.

The New York Yankees, Brooklyn Robins and St. Louis Cardinals were defeated by minor league opposition yesterday, while the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago White Sox had to go into extra innings to win and the Boston Braves and Cincinnati Reds spent part of the afternoon trying to get even so that they could finally move on to victory.

The Yankees bowed to Nashville, 11 to 10 in 10 innings. Ruth hit his second home run in two days. It was not a novelty however, for the game produced three other circuit smashes. The winning volunteers outhit the world's champions.

Frankie Frisch went from the sublime to the ridiculous with four hits and two errors. His errors hurt the Cardinals more than his hits helped. St. Louis fell before Evansville of the three-eye league, 11 to 7.

Atlanta downed Brooklyn 9 to 8 with Roby's aces. Dazzy Vance and Jess Petty doing the pitching. The Phillies stopped the Athletics, 3 to 2, in the Philadelphia series, the contest producing only ten safeties, equally divided. Ty Cobb cracked out two. Bill Dietrick, the reformed infielder, saved the day for Shotton's crew with a catch worthy of a regular outfielder.

The Giants continued to outhit the Washington Senators and were helped to victory, 9 to 7, by wobbly fielding on the part of the American Leaguers. Jahn blasted a home run as a suggestion that the New York club did a smart thing when it drafted him.

Chicago's White Sox came through with three runs in the tenth to win, 5 to 2, from Louisville. The Sox made no headway against the aged Nick Cullop, still good enough as a pitcher to have a horse named for him. Old Nick allowed no hits in his five innings job.

The Dallas Steers could gather but three hits from Van Gilder and Sullivan. The Detroit Tigers winning 7 to 0. Paul Easterling's home run helped. A few more may win him an outfield place.

Rogers Hornsby hit the ball hard to assist the Braves in winning a 7 to 4 game from Chattanooga, and a crowded eighth inning when the Reds scored four runs sent Cincinnati home in front of Indianapolis, 8 to 5.

The Pirates had to go 11 innings to stop San Antonio, 10 to 6. The Texans did their counting early, scoring all their runs in the first two innings.

Cleveland took advantage of good pitching to take a game from the Montgomery Lions, 6 to 1.

Rain at Tulsa, possibly brought on by the St. Louis Browns' terrific hitting the day before, made baseball out of the question.

Games at Port Ewen.

The weekly basketball games held in Pythian Hall, Port Ewen, will be staged tonight instead of on Good Friday. Margaretville will appear against the Port Ewen team for the first time this season. The girls' team from across the bridge will meet the Woodstock girls' team.

Blindfolded . . . in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Princess Paul Chavchavadze selects OLD GOLD

"I was much intrigued by the invitation to make a blindfold test of your leading brands of American cigarettes, to see how they compared with each other and with those I had smoked abroad. Could one really taste the difference? I wondered.

"But when I was handed these cigarettes, one by one, I realized at once that there was a difference and that the test was conclusive. One cigarette was so much more appealing, so much more delicate in flavor. Oh, and so much smoother!

"When the test was over and I was told that the cigarette of my choice was OLD GOLD I understood at once why this cigarette is so popular among my American friends."

Nina Chavchavadze

PRINCESS PAUL CHAVCHAVADZE, Sister of Mrs. Wm. B. Leeds

© P. Lorillard Co., Inc. 1928

How Test Was Made

Subject was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke. To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette. The Princess was entirely unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test. After smoking the four cigarettes, the Princess was asked to designate by number her choice. Without hesitation she replied, "No. 3"... which was OLD GOLD.

SMOOTHER AND BETTER — NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD

Father Hafford Congratulates Dr. Frank B. Seeley

"It Takes Some Man to Hold Down a Job That Many Years," He Tells Rotarians, Speaking From the Standpoint of One Who Knows.

The expected speaker of the day failing to appear, the Rotary luncheon on Wednesday at the Governor Clinton was followed by an impromptu program that everybody enjoyed. In order to give the regular song leader a chance to recuperate C. C. DeMond of Ulster Park, probably on the strength of the reputation he established Monday evening at the Golden Rule Inn, was called on to act in that capacity and did so with great credit to himself and satisfaction to the club members.

The Rev. George Hafford, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church at Sawkill, made an address congratulating the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley on Dr. Seeley's completion of 30 years as minister of the Fair Street Reformed Church and congratulating the church on having the good fortune to retain for such a long term a beloved minister. "It takes some man," said Father Hafford, "no matter how good a preacher or how good a mixer he may be, to hold down a job that many years and still hold the love and interest of his people. I know what I am talking about, and how, after a few years, people and pastor usually tire of each other, especially in a small town where there are few changes. In a big city the congregation changes, but in the small town the clergyman who can hold a job for 30 years must have a wonderful personality and wonderful versatility, and anyone who can do what Dr. Seeley has done here deserves the warmest tribute we can give him."

At the close of the program President Michael, on behalf of the club, presented to Dr. Seeley a handsome desk set with a Rotary emblem, which was accepted by Dr. Seeley in his usual graceful manner.

Rattlesnake's Rings

The biological survey says that the rattlesnake acquires from two to four rings a year, usually three. Under normal conditions one ring is added each time the snake sheds its skin. The young rattler is provided with a single button at birth, and within a few days it sheds its skin and commences feeding; in about two months it sheds its skin for the second time and then the first ring of the rattle is discovered or added.

FORMER OFFICIAL AND HER NEMESIS

The indictment of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp (left), former secretary of state of New York, is sought by Moreland Commissioner Randall J. Lebouf, Jr. (right), on four charges growing out of alleged irregularities in expenditures on the census. The charges are forgery, grand larceny, false audits and destruction of public records.

COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, April 5.—There was a fine attendance at Sunday school on Palm Sunday in the Reformed Sunday school, also at the church service which followed, in charge of Dr. Cantine, who delivered a very fine sermon, which was appreciated by the congregation. On Easter Sunday, April 8, Sunday school will be held at 2 p. m. Lesson subject, "The Resurrection." Every one is welcome. On Easter Sunday evening at 7:15 o'clock, in the Reformed Church Hall, an Easter program will be given, to which the public is very cordially invited.

The superintendent of the Reformed Sunday school desires all those who are taking part in the Easter program to meet at the church hall on Saturday evening, April 7, at 7 o'clock, for rehearsal.

The roads in this vicinity are drying out nicely, a fact that is greatly appreciated by all those with autos who have had to use dirt roads this spring.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet in the church hall on Thursday, April 5, at 2 p. m. This is the regular monthly meeting.

Preaching service in the Methodist Church on Easter Sunday, April 8, at 3:15 p. m., in charge of the Rev. J. Holmes Smith, who will deliver a special Easter sermon. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will also sing. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

Better a little chiding than a great deal of heartbreak.—Shakespeare.

Don't carry your wishbone where your backbone ought to be.—D. W. Beasley.

Education is a capital to the poor man, and an interest to the rich man. —Horace Mann.

Education must always be defined in terms of life, of growth, of progress.—John Grier Hibben.

Chide him for faults, and do it reverently when you perceive his blood inclined to mirth.—Shakespeare.

I will chide no breather in the world but myself, against whom I know most faults.—Shakespeare.

Real education means teaching children to be clean, active, honest and useful.—John Ruskin.

The silent upbraiding of the eye is the very poetry of reproach; it speaks at once to the imagination.—Mrs. Balfour.

Many men are angry with them that tell them of their faults, when they should be angry only with the faults that are told them.—Venning.

He had such a gentle method of reproving their faults that they were not so much afraid as ashamed to repeat them.—Atterbury.

The reproof of a good man resembles fuller's earth; it not only removes the spots from our character, but it rubs off when it is dry.—Williamson.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Dun—the future tense of due.

There is always a mystery about how the people next door live.

All love messages of the prudent man are of the wireless variety.

Bashful lovers and kernels of corn usually turn white when they pop.

Many a man's empty pockets are due to his wife's fondness for change.

It isn't what your grandfather was, but what you are, that really counts.

Fish may be good brain food; when there is something for it to assimilate with.

Truly does a man always know less after marriage than he thinks he knows before.

Chauncey M. Depew, Dies

many years as chairman of the board of directors of the Lake Shore, the Michigan Central, and the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroads. He also was a director and legal advisor in many other corporations throughout the country.

After-dinner speaking he called his "recreation," and he indulged in it to a greater extent perhaps than any other man of his time. No New York dinner or Yale occasion, particularly, was complete without his presence and speech. The Montauk Club of Brooklyn marked time for him by giving a dinner in his honor on every birthday for nearly 30 years back. The extent of his participation in notable dinners was emphasized in 1910, when it was found that eight large volumes were required to contain his speeches, which were published in a private de luxe edition at that time.

"I am known as an after-dinner speaker. I hope I also am known as a man who works," he said on his eightieth birthday. "My dinners have never interfered with my business—they have been my recreation. Most men get their relaxation in cards. That makes them keep late hours, and they sit in a room with bad air and drink too many cocktails. They die young.

"When I was very young I decided to make dinners my recreation. Speaking was easy to me. My digestion might have bothered me if I had not been careful. I experimented to find just what I could eat best. I soon determined to play with everything, but to eat nothing except the roast and game courses. The trouble with the average man is that he cannot restrain his appetite. But a public banquet, if eaten with thought and care, is no more of a strain than a dinner at home."

Mr. Depew was born at Peekskill, N. Y., April 23, 1834. His ancestors on the paternal side were French Huguenots who came to America in the seventeenth century, and on the maternal side he was descended from Roger Sherman, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. The house where he was born had been the Depew homestead for more than 200 years.

The father, in addition to being a merchant and farmer, also was a pioneer in river transportation between Peekskill and New York city. The mother, a woman of highly developed literary tastes, was chiefly responsible for the thoroughness of her son's education. He obtained his preliminary training in Peekskill Academy and in 1852 entered Yale, from which he was graduated four years later as a barrister.

Returning to the farm at the age of 22, he clashed with his father over politics and subsequently abandoned the latter's Democratic faith to take local stumps in favor of Fremont and his Free Soil campaign. After the election he began practicing law, and earned his first fee—$1.75, for an opinion that required several days to prepare—just about the time Lincoln was first mentioned for the presidency. He immediately entered the campaign on behalf of the latter and gained considerable fame as a political orator.

Eight years later he had been nominated and confirmed for the post of American Minister to Japan. Previous to this he had been secretary of New York State and had held several other public offices, although he declined more political appointments perhaps than any other young man in the country.

Just as Depew was preparing to leave for Japan, Commodore Vanderbilt acquired the New York and Harlem railroad—128 miles of "junk", as he afterwards described it. He called upon Depew and offered him the position of general counsel at a salary of $7,500 a year, but the young lawyer promptly informed the financier that he was to receive a much higher salary as Minister to Japan.

"It's up to you," Vanderbilt replied. "Railroads are the career for a young man. There is nothing in politics. Don't make a fool of yourself."

Depew took the job, and on January 1, 1921, had rounded out 55 years with the Vanderbilt interests. His connection with railroading covered practically the whole period of railway construction, expansion and development in the United States. Beginning in 1866 as attorney for the New York and Harlem, he became vice-president of all the Vanderbilt roads merged into the New York Central in 1867 and president of the New York Central in 1885. In 1899 he resigned to become chairman of the board of directors, a position he continued to fill through the eventful period of reconstruction following the World War.

Mr. Depew was frequently criticized for taking an active part in politics while he retained his powerful railroad connections, but those who knew his work intimately were quick to point out that he never neglected the details of either his business or his public career.

Once he made a tour of the New York Central lines to inspect the various restaurants operated by the company. He was prompted to make the trip by a letter received from a patron of the road.

"You are the finest after-dinner speaker in the world," it said, "and I have listened to you many times, but I would give anything I possess to hear your speech after you had dined in your restaurant at Utica."

Mr. Depew had known intimately every president from Lincoln to Coolidge. His first meeting with Lincoln occurred during the Civil War, while Depew was Secretary of New York State. He had gone to Washington on a mission connected with the New York National Guard, but upon entering the White House reception room and seeing the kind-hearted President surrounded by scores of office-seekers and other favor-hunters, Depew turned to go.

"Just a moment young man," said the President." What did you want?"

"Nothing," replied the New Yorker.

"Well, this is a luxury," Lincoln replied. "No one has ever been here before that didn't want something. I wish you would remain until I have attended to the wants of these people, for I would like to talk to you."

More than 20 years after this interview, Mr. Depew had become such a power in the Republican party that he was prominently mentioned for the presidency, and in 1888, when the Republican national convention appeared to be hopelessly deadlocked, Depew received 99 votes for the nomination. It being apparent that a nomination was not possible under the existing conditions, as Mr. Depew concentrated the full strength of his state, he withdrew his name and threw his support to Benjamin Harrison, who was subsequently nominated and elected.

Mr. Depew declined several flattering appointments at the hands of President Harrison, including that of Secretary of State, and was not active in politics again until 1899, when he was elected United States Senator from New York, serving until 1911.

"These 12 years were the happiest of my life," he said upon his retirement.

Mr. Depew married twice. His first wife was Elize Hegeman, whom he married in 1871, and by whom he had one son, Chauncey M. Depew, Jr. She died in 1893. His second wife was May Palmer, whom he married in 1901.

His receipt for longevity was: "Work, temperance and fun."

18-Ton Bell for U. S. Completed With Fete

Croydon, England.—This ancient town recently held a high festival of bell ringers, the occasion being the completion of an 18-ton bell which will be added to the carillon of the 53 bells in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York.

The great Bourbon, which is the largest ever cast in England, was sounded for the first time. Selections were played also on a carillon of 23 bells which is being assembled for a church in Rochester, Minn.

Cyril Johnston, head of a famous bell foundry, invited representatives of all the bell-ringing guilds in the country. All the famous ringers from St. Paul's cathedral in London came and those from other churches swelled the total to about 2,500. The festival was graced further by the presence of the archbishop of Canterbury and other church dignitaries.

Faces Impeachment

For alleged undue services to the Decimo Club, a business-fraternal organization, Arthur K. Reading, attorney-general of Massachusetts, may be impeached. The House committee of the Legislature was to review all the acts of the official for the past fourteen months. The lower house moved for impeachment.

LENTEN SERVICES IN FIRST DUTCH CHURCH.

Tonight at 7:30 the congregational preparatory service will be held in the lecture room of the church. This service has always been one of deep significance coming as it does on the evening before Good Friday. After the service the minister with the elders will hold a short meeting to welcome those who wish to unite with the church. Tomorrow (Friday) the choir, under the direction of W. Whiting Fredenburgh, will sing Stainer's "The Crucifixion," at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Herman La Tour and Harry Clearwater will assist the regular choir, making a chorus of about twenty voices. This service, commemorating the hour of the Savior's passion has always drawn a large number of worshippers from outlying communities as well as attracting those of the various churches of our city. Sunday morning at 10:30 the regular Easter service will be held with music and discourse appropriate to the occasion. This will be followed by reception of new members and the communion.

No Written Constitution

England and France do not have written constitutions in the generally accepted sense of the term. The present government of Great Britain is based upon a series of acts and fundamental laws passed since the signing of Magna Charta. Parliament, however, is supreme and can make laws which do not agree with those acts often spoken of as "the British constitution." The government of France is based on several organic acts passed after the fall of Louis Napoleon. These acts do not constitute a written constitution in the sense of our constitution.—Exchange.

Inert Gases

Both nitrogen and helium are inert gases, without chemical action on other substances and they would probably remain indefinitely unchanged in sealed containers. Nitrogen may be obtained by removing oxygen from the air or by the decomposition of certain ammonium compounds. Helium is found in certain natural gases, from which it is obtained, or it may be separated from atmospheric nitrogen by passing it over heated magnesium, or from liquid air by means of fractional distillation.

Tribute to a Pretty Girl

I know a pretty girl not a day over eighteen, and the most impudent human being I have ever known.

Not bad impudence; it is the beautiful kind of "nerve" smart women know how to exercise.

The impudence she displays, in a young man would be rudely exposed, but when exercised by this pretty girl, men almost regard it as divine—

A shadowy word they use a great deal and know little about.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Benedictine Ball Floor Committee

Bernard A. Feeney, chairman of the floor committee for the Benedictine Ball, has plans made for the dancing arrangement which will allow the greatest number to comfortably witness the entertainment when the event will be put on Easter Monday night, April 9, in the armory.

A corps of men who will assist in seating the chairs and acting as ushers has been recruited by the chairman. Those who will act on the floor committee are as follows: Bernard A. Feeney, chairman; John Reynolds, Thomas Davitt, Florian P. Wingert, John V. O'Connor, William Lechlre, Thomas F. Linden, Anthony Von Gonsic, John Von Gonsic, Frank P. Messinger, William Byrne, William Snyder, Eugene B. Carey, Ralph Gilmartin, James M. Murphy, James J. Murphy, James Byrne, Sr., James Byrne, Jr., E. Frank Flanagan, Clarence Perry, Addison Freer, Edward Cantord and Edmund O'Reilly.

The refreshment committee is working earnestly for the success of the Benedictine Ball and this feature of the event is expected to be a flourishing one with the following ladies in charge. Mrs. Louis Stratton, Mrs. Mary Healey, Mrs. John Herrick, Mrs. Sarah Finn, Mrs. Frank Steltz, Mrs. Michael Mitchell, Mrs. Dono Cox, Mrs. David Long, Mrs. William Steltz, Mrs. James Brennan, Mrs. Alfred Entrott, Mrs. Edward Arnold, Mrs. Thomas Coughlin, Mrs. Michael Horton, Mrs. Ross Hanson, Mrs. William Brady, Mrs. Augustus Kogel, Mrs. Patirck Fogarty, Mrs. Nellie Deyoe, Mrs. Katherine Cochran, Mrs. Sarah Gallagher, the Misses Sarah Tigney, Anna Ryan, Kitty Welch, Mary Lloyd, Marion Feeney, Marie Coughlin, Mary McNamara, Bellemire Bell and Anna Broaders.

Stocks Make New High Records

New York, April 5 (AP).—The stock market ploughed forward again today, breaking new high records with startling rapidity, as buying orders poured in for a wide assortment of stocks. Early gains in the active issues ranged from $2 to $7 a share.

Interboro Rapid Transit and Purity Baking B led the early advance by advancing $7 a share each to new high records at $49.75 and $149.50, respectively. General Motors, Wabash, Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Hudson and Manhattan, Continental Can, Wright Aeronautical and Schulte Retail Stores climbed $4 to $6, most of them to new peak prices.

Buying of the rails was stimulated by the belief that eastern railroad executives, meeting here today, would definitely agree upon the major point of their consolidation program, leaving only the details to be worked out.

Such recent unfavorable news as the huge gain in brokers' loans, further gold exports, smaller freight traffic, increased crude oil production and indications of a smaller federal tax cut than had been anticipated were completely ignored.

Holy Cross Card Party.

The Young Girls' Friendly Society of the Holy Cross Church will hold a card party in the parish hall, Wednesday night, April 18. Mrs. Ed. Fredenburgh will be in charge. There will be prizes and refreshments.

Special Offer To Victims of Gas and Chronic Indigestion

All Druggists Say Pleasant to Take. Elixir Must Help Poor Distressed Stomach or Money Gladly Refunded.

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness that you think your heart is going to stop beating. Your stomach may be so disturbed that your breathing is short and gaspy. You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done.

Just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin and in ten minutes the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.

Oh! What blessed relief; but why not get rid of such attacks altogether? Why have chronic indigestion at all?

Especially when any druggist anywhere guarantees Dare's Mentha Pepsin, a pleasant elixir, to end indigestion, acute or chronic, or money back.

Delivers Charge To Grand Jury

public institutions is undermined only when there is dishonesty in public office. If public servants are corrupt the functions of government will not be properly carried on; there will necessarily be great waste in public funds; increase in taxes, and a general distrust of public officials.

"Public office does not give a license to plunder or pilfer the public treasury. One has no more right to misappropriate the money of the state than to steal the property of a private citizen. I am not unmindful of the fact that there are those who feel that there are certain perquisites which come from holding public office, but we properly hold our public officials to strict accountability for their acts, just as a trustee of a private fund is held to account for his conduct.

"It sometimes happens in public discussions concerning the maladministration of a public office that a citizen says that that particular official is no worse than other public officials whom he has heard about. Consideration of that sort may no more enter upon an investigation of this character than it may in the case of burglars or robbers. The fact that someone else to the mind of a juror has not been prosecuted is no reason why that juror should fail in his duty to vote for an indictment where the evidence establishes the commisson of crime.

"The Grand Jury has no choice except to indict where such evidence is submitted to it. It is not for it to excuse or exculpate."

The investigation was to deal only with the question of crimes, the court warned, and not with "The method or manner of the conduct of any particular office.

Duty of Grand Jury

"The function of the grand jury," he said, "is to determine not whether a public office has been badly administered, but whether crimes have been committed in the conduct of that office. It may appear to you that the particular instances or items called to your attention deal with amounts which, standing by themselves, as single instances, do not represent to your minds large losses to the state. You must not be influenced by any considerations of that kind.

"Where fraud has been practiced in obtaining any funds of the state by false representations, false certifications or false audits, and a crime has been committed, you have no choice but to indict in the specific instances called to your attention by the attorney general. Frauds are frequently committed on a large scale by a series of petty pilferings and misrepresentations as to comparatively small amounts in such a manner that public confidence in its administration shaken."

In conclusion, Justice Callaghan cautioned the jurors against being influenced by the large amount of publicity which has been given to the Knapp case, involving as it does the only woman ever elected to statewide office in New York. He also added:

"It is not improbable that someone has, without your knowledge and against your wishes, attempted in some way to influence your judgment. If in the course of your service, you are approached by anyone for the purpose of influencing your decision report such intrusion immediately to the court. It will not go unnoticed."

SPRING DANCE AT SAWKILL APRIL 11.

A spring novelty dance will be held at St. Ann's Hall, Sawkill, Wednesday night, April 11. It is expected that many from Kingston will attend the event which is promised to afford a good time for all. In past years many from this city have enjoyed the spring dance at the Sawkill hall and it is anticipated that they will be accompanied by numerous friends for the dance on April 11. There will be balloons and confetti as a feature of the dance. Good music is promised. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher, 22 St. Mary's avenue, a son, John, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, 70 Murray street, a son, Anthony.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Barnes, 8 Hurley avenue, a son, Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Golneck, 7 DeWitt street, a daughter, Alma Rose.

Not Even The Inspectors.

According to the returns filed with the Ulster county board of election commissioners no one voted on spring primary day, Tuesday, April 3, in districts Nos. 1 and 4, Marbletown, and in District No. 1, town of Rochester. There are people interested in matters political who fail to understand why the inspectors in those districts did not vote.

Ambulance Calls Here.

Wednesday the city ambulance made three calls removing Fred H. Goodyear from Fairview avenue to the City of Kingston Hospital; Miss Elsie Gimble from the City of Kingston Hospital to 132 Prospect street, and Mrs. Krum from 128 North Front street to the Benedictine Hospital.

23 Forest Fires In New York

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (AP).—Twenty-three forest fires were reported today to the New York State Department of Conservation, as occurring yesterday in the southeastern part of the state, including Long Island.

Six of these fires burned 1,500 acres. The largest fire was 500 acres in the town of Ghent, Columbia county, caused by fire escaping from a pile of burning railroad ties. Other large fires were one of 300 acres near Middle Island, L. I., and one of similar area in Orange county. Most of thes fires resulted from the burning rubbish, pointing out that the present spell of hot, dry weather has resulted in a serious fire hazard.

KAY MILLINERY SHOP SUCCEEDS MARY FLYNN

The millinery shop on East Strand which was conducted by Miss Mary Flynn for many years has been taken over by Mrs. Harry Koransky, formerly Miss Minnie Kunst of East Strand, who will continue the business under the name of the Kay Millinery Shop. A number of improvements are being made to the interior of the shop, and a large stock of hats has been placed on the shelves.

No Holy Name Meeting.

There will be no meeting of St. Mary's Holy Name Society on Sunday, April 8, but the members will receive the regular monthly holy communion in a body at the 8 o'clock Mass. Hymns appropriate to the Easter season will be rendered at the Mass by the Holy Name choir, who have been rehearsing for the occasion. A meeting of the Holy Name will be held later in April when plans will be made to attend the Ulster County Holy Name Rally to be held at Saugerties on the last Sunday of this month.

Believe Banker Drowned.

Jamestown, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—Belief that Milton J. Beaty, Warren, Pa., banker and oil operator, has been drowned in Chautauqua Lake, was expressed here today.

Mr. Beaty, who has a summer home at Lakewood, N. Y., set out late yesterday afternoon to test a new racing motor boat. When he failed to return, relatives notified police and searchers set out. They found the boat overturned on an ice floe near Sheldon Hall, opposite Lakewood. No trace was found of Mr. Beaty.

Minstrel Rehearsal Monday.

The cast which is preparing to present a minstrel for the benefit of the Holy Name Church, Wilbur, on April 17 in the church hall, will hold a rehearsal Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The minstrel is being directed by Miss Adeline Walker and John Scully. Besides the young ladies and men of Wilbur, Zeke Boss and Buddy Dugan will perform in the minstrel.

Rochester Dairy Owners to Meet

A second meeting of all dairymen in the town of Rochester is called for Monday, April 9 at the Accord M. E. Church hall at 10 a. m. The purpose of this meeting is to complete the organization and start up work of the town for the tuberculin test. Considerable work has already been made on this matter with a hearty response from most dairymen. Committeemen report everything pointing toward a complete sign-up with excellent prospects for the test being applied. The Ulster County Accredited Herd Association is strongly in back of the move and is calling the meeting on Monday at the request of cattle owners in the town.

Dairymen from other towns interested in the work are cordially invited to attend.

"BURNING DAYLIGHT" IN PLACE OF "TEXAS STEER"

The Broadway Theatre received word today that the picture to be shown at the theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday would be Milton Sills in "Burning Daylight" instead of Will Rogers in "The Texas Steer". Notice of the change in picture was received by the theatre management too late to make a change in the advertisement in tonight's Freeman.

Workmen Killed by Explosion.

Willemstad, Curacao, April 5 (AP)—Explosion of part of the deck of the Dutch Tanker Chepita while in drydock at St. Ann's harbor yesterday resulted in twenty casualties among workmen, a number being killed with the remainder injured or missing.

Mrs. Hill Wins.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 5 (AP)—Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City today won the United North and South Women's Golf championship. She defeated Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago 6 up and 5 to play.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 5 (AP)—Speculators for the advance continued in control of the price movement in today's stock market which was featured by the heavy buying of the railroad shares. Extreme gains in the active issues ranged from one to nearly 12 points, with more than two score individual shares mounting to new high ground. Trading showed a moderate expansion in volume, with every indication that the day's sales would cross the 3,000,000 share mark for the nineteenth consecutive full session.

Eastern railroad executives adjourned without making any announcement regarding their consolidation plans but the persistent accumulation of the carrier shares indicated that progress had been made. Call money advanced from 5 to 5½ per cent in the early afternoon as banks called loans in anticipation of heavy week end demands for currency.

Delaware & Hudson assumed the leadership of the railroad group by soaring nearly 12 points. Pittsburgh & East Virginia extended its early gain to nearly 8 points, and Hudson & Manhattan, Reading, Texas & Pacific, Wabash and Lehigh Valley climbed 3 to 5 points.

U. S. Cast Iron Pipe was run up 10 points. Dupont and Purity Baking B each advanced 8 points. Interboro Rapid Transit, 7, and General Motors, Continental Can, Abraham & Straus, Brooklyn-Manhattan transit, and Schulte Retail Stores sold 5 or more points higher.

There were a few soft spots. Wright Aeronautical after climbing 5½ points to 137½ dropped to 128½ and Curtiss Aeroplane sold down 3½ points.

Coppers were in brisk demand in the early afternoon. Greene Cananea jumped 5 points and Anaconda was turned over in large volume, touching a new high at 65⅞.

Robbed and Thrown From Auto.

Washington, Pa., April 5 (AP)—Mrs. Harold Jones, 35, of Washington, D. C., reported to the state police here today that two young men had robbed her of $200 and thrown her from her automobile near here. Mrs. Jones, traveling alone, was enroute to Columbus, Ohio, where she had been called by the death of her mother.

15 Bills Vetoed By Governor

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—On constitutional grounds, Governor Smith today vetoed the Shonk Bill designed to forbid the exhibition at dog shows dogs whelped after September 1, if their ears have been clipped or cut. In vetoing 14 other bills, the Governor took occasion to assail the "dilapidated form of town government" and to refuse to approve measures which he believed would tend to weaken existing election laws.

In disapproving the "dog bill" the Governor suggested that the only theory upon which it could be justified would be that the present custom of clipping dogs' ears is a "shock to public morals," and as such should be a uniform law as to all places, "circuses, theatres, fairgrounds, the public highways and byways."

"The theory behind this proposed law I will not dispute," said the Governor, "I take my hat off to no man in my love for dogs and my desire to protect them from any form of cruelty. If this bill prohibited the possession of dogs with cut ears and was made to apply alike to every citizen of the state I would accept it."

The Governor's criticism of town government came with his veto of a bill which would give town boards the power to fix compensation of overseers of the poor at $5,000 a year where the population is 30,000 or more. The Governor declared that nothing could be more unscientific than this type of legislation and suggested that town boards really should be empowered to fix the salary without legislative act. If the legislature insists upon "messing in the business of the towns, it ought at least to do it intelligently," the Governor said.

Odds and Ends

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. James M. E. Church will hold their turkey dinner on Wednesday, October 17.

TROOPER'S HAND FROZEN, BUT HE GETS HIS MAN

Malone, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—State Trooper Robert Hastie, of Troop B, stationed here arrived at headquarters today with his right hand badly frozen. Hastie was pursuing an alleged rum-running automobile headed south near Tupper Lake, Monday night, and froze his hand while clinging to the side of the pursuing car.

He captured the car which, he reported, contained 600 quarts of ale, and arrested Anthony Balnosky, of Amsterdam, whom he turned over to federal authorities in Malone.

Depew Funeral Saturday.

Plan to Launch Smith Candidacy

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—When Governor Alfred E. Smith returns from his spring vacation in North Carolina somewhere around April 22, he will be formally and publicly hailed by the Democracy of his home state as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Final decision to launch the Governor's candidacy during his absence from the state was reached at a two hour conference here yesterday between the "big three" of the Democratic party of the state—Smith, George W. Olvany, leader of Tammany Hall, and Lieut. Governor Edwin Corning, chairman of the state committee. Formal announcement that the governor will enter the national political arena will be made at a meeting of the state committee in New York city April 17.

Officially yesterday's conference was for the purpose of discussing New York's slate of delegates and alternates-at-large to the Democratic national convention. The governor declared at its conclusion but every indication pointed to the inclusion of more important political subjects. It was the final opportunity for the three leaders to get together before the state committee meeting, with the governor planning to leave early next week for the south, and Olvany intending to go to Florida tomorrow for ten days.

The conference was productive of two definite results— one the announcement that neither United States Senator Royal S. Copeland nor Senator Robert F. Wagner would represent their state at the national convention. Decision also was reached to reelect Lieut. Governor Corning as state chairman, although he was reluctant to accept the post for a second time.

At the state committee meeting, formal ratification will be accorded the following slate of delegates-at-large:

John W. Davis of New York city, Democratic candidate for president in 1924; Mayor James J. Walker of New York city; National Committeemen Norman E. Mack of Buffalo; Franklin D. Roosevelt of Hyde Park, Smith's campaign manager in the 1924 convention; Miss Elizabeth Marbury of New York, National Committeewoman; Mrs. Daniel O'Day of Rye, vice chairman of the state committee; Mrs. William H. Goode of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., of Dutchess county.

SHIPPERS PREDICT BETTER BUSINESS

Syracuse, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—Speakers at the seventeenth regular meeting of the Atlantic states shippers advisory board here today predicted better business during April, May and June in petroleum and petroleum products, pulp and paper, slate, textiles, tobacco, auto parts and accessories, glass containers, hides, leather and tanning materials, lime gypsum, sand and gravel, bricks, canned goods and preserves, fertilizers, cement, paints, oils and varnishes.

E. J. Cleave, district manager of the car service division, American Railway Association, declared that there would be a net increase of one half of one per cent over last year in the number of freight cars required for the next 90 days to handle commodity movements in the Atlantic states.

Reports from the basic industries indicated that during the second quarter of this year, car loadings will be in excess of those for the same period of 1927. The meeting was attended by 506 industrial and railroad representatives.

Like Dynamite

There is nothing that a man will not do for the woman he truly loves! There is a type of woman who knows this and who, after having won the devoted love of a man, proceeds to use that love as a means of gaining her purely selfish ends.

Many a woman of this type is hopelessly extravagant. She knows that her husband will make any sacrifice to gratify even her slightest whim. But she often does not know that the very love which makes him spoil her will make him violently condemn her if she indulges in dangerous indiscretions.

Love is somewhat like dynamite. If properly handled, it can serve the most useful purposes. If treated carelessly, it can cause havoc and even death.—True Story Magazine.

Army Rations Long Ago

How the American soldiers in the old fort of Detroit used to fare is indicated by a warrant recorded in September, 1797, contained in the records of Otto Stoll, register of deeds, and signed by Edward Day, department commissary. The warrant reads: "The United States owe at Detroit to Messrs. Leith, Shepard and Duff, 5,185 rations of soap at 22 cents a pound; 123 pounds beef at 10 cents a pound; 31,736 rations af whisky at $2 a gallon (one-half a gill being a ration); 5,404 rations of candles at 24 cents a pound, and 24,896 rations of vinegar at 6 cents a quart. . . . All of which quantities have become due to the soldiery anterior to this date as appears by due bills of the assistant commissary."

Jeweled Wedding Rings

At a recent wedding the bride's ring was of platinum, set with a single turquoise. This may seem a novel idea, but it is not so really. A century ago all wedding rings were inset with one or more precious stones. The majority of them, too, had either an inscribed motto or the bride's and bridegroom's Christian names linked in a heart-knot. "Of love unbroken this circle is token" was a favorite inscription.

DR. SEELEY ADDRESSES Y. W. BUSINESS GIRLS.

There was a good attendance of members of the Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. at the Wednesday night supper this week. Miss Rand announced that the recent cake sale held by the girls at the Wonderly store, had, to date, netted $22.95. Miss Van Kuran reminded the girls that in two weeks the Y. W. would be in the midst of the annual budget campaign which would be in progress from April 16 to 21, inclusive. It would be necessary to raise $9,360 this year. Already two most efficient captains had been secured from the Business Girls' Club, Miss Dorothy Kennedy and Miss Alma Tyler who were ready to enroll workers for their teams. Next Wednesday evening the supper program will be musical in character, Miss Mildred Messinger being in charge.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, who gave the girls one of the most serious yet inspiring Lenten talks ever given at the Y. W. He took his message from the 42nd Psalm, "My Soul Thirsteth for God." He told his audience that he considered it indeed a fine thing, that they with all Christendom were considering the events of Lent, especially Holy Week. Today Lent has the peculiarly significant value that everywhere it is making us think seriously of the realities of life. Dr. Seeley told of the weary craving for reality these days, the holding out helpless hands toward something real, that something being God, the living God. Nor is that craving peculiar to the saints of the earth, it is in the heart of all of us. Today life is full of restlessness of dissatisfaction, especially American life. After all, Dr. Seeley considered that to be one of the noblest things about us all, that we refuse to be satisfied until we find God. Neither money nor success, nor any number and kind of "things," can satisfy us without God for we are made in His image. And Jesus Christ came to tell us what God is. Defeated, despised, having lost all, Jesus still had the supreme satisfaction of God so that it could be said of Him, "Who for the joy that was set before Him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God." So in spite of the restlessness that we see all about us, life is beautiful and infinitely good and divinely glorious if we are on the quest of the eternal reality of the need of God.

KILL FIVE INSURGENTS IN ATTACK ON TOWN

Mexico City, April 5 (AP).—Dispatches from Guadalajara Wednesday said the police and a group of volunteers heroically defended Tequila, one of the most important towns in the state of Jalisco, against a group of insurgents headed by a priest named Ruiz and numbering about 200. They attacked the town early Tuesday morning. The insurgents, defeated, withdrew, abandoning several dead. Five volunteers were killed and one soldier was wounded.

What Congress Is Doing Today

(By The Associated Press.)

Senate takes up McNary-Haugen Bill while Newton proposal to permit formation buying pools to combat foreign monopolies comes before House.

Senate Finance Committee continues closed sessions on new tax bill. Cotton and grain hearings proceed before Senate Agriculture Committees.

House committees consider food control, barge lines, agriculture and immigration proposals.

Wednesday:

Senate passed District of Columbia appropriation bill and several uncontested bills on calendar, including one to settle claims against food administration grain corporation, and received motion by Heflin, Alabama, for removal of Chauncey G. Parker, general counsel of shipping board; House passed several minor bills, including one for International Pan-American highway, listened to prohibition tilt between Cramton and Black and appointed committee of 22 to attend Gallivan funeral.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee favorably reported nominations Joseph C. Grew, New Hampshire, be ambassador to Turkey, and Franklin M. Gunther, Virginia, be minister to Egypt.

Senate Finance Committee favored reduction corporation tax from 13½ per cent to 12 per cent instead of 11½ per cent voted by House; Democrats decided to seek tax reduction of $300,000,000 as opposed to administration $200,000,000.

Bill to treble capitalization inland waterways corporation received further endorsement before House Commerce Committee.

In minority report, three Republican members house military committee opposed ten million dollar appropriation for proposed Muscle Shoals Federal Corporation.

London May See "Dawn."

London, April 5 (AP).—The Exchange Telegraph Wednesday said that the London county council had decided to permit the showing the film "Dawn," depicting the execution of Edith Cavell, British war nurse. The board of censors recently advised that it be withheld from exhibition.

Extradite Escaped Prisoner.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 5 (AP).—Gov. Fisher yesterday honored extradition papers for Seymour Wolff, alias John J. Hunter, an escaped prisoner from Schenectady, N. Y., who is under arrest in Philadelphia. Wolff was serving a sentence for passing worthless checks.
